SHIP SUBSIDY LAW

President Taft Will Urge Congress to Pass Measure

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 1.—Speaking before the largest audience he has ever addressed, President Taft today declared that he would urge in his coming message to congress the enactment of a ship subsidy law.

Mr. Taft declared that the country was ready to make such experiment and that something might be done to build up an American merchant marine. His utterances on this subject were received with great applause.

When the president turned to Alaska, however, and declared that he was opposed to granting a territorial form of government to that far off possession, the statement was received in silence.

As the president proceeded, however, and outlined his policy for the rebuilding of Alaska, of recommending government aid in the construction of railroads, of a local government by a commission of five or more members appointed by the president and co-operating with the governor, and when he told of the great possibilities that lie in Alaska, he plainly caught the favor of his hearers and was loudly cheered.

Later in the day when he was admitted to membership in the Arctic Brotherhood, an international organization made up of Canadians and Americans interested in the development of Alaska, the president announced that he intended to visit Alaska next summer and to go as far into the territory as time would permit so that he might come into contact with the people and see for himself what may best be done for their welfare.

The president frankly told the members of the brotherhood that he did not believe that Alaska is ready for entire self government.

"I am as much in favor of popular government as anybody," declared the president, "but I am in favor of popular government only when the conditions exist under which popular government may be a success and work for the benefit of the people and the government at large. When there are conditions growing out of various circumstances we must take other means until popular government becomes possible and then, of course, it is the best government in the world."

In discussing ship subsidy President Taft declared that a war should come at this time the United States would not have enough vessels to carry coal to its fleet. And it would be doubtful under the neutrality law, he added, if the United States would be able to buy foreign vessels in emergency.

The president had an interesting and busy day which ended last night with a banquet in the Washington building on the exposition grounds.

On ship subsidy, the president said: "The Panama canal will be completed on or before the first of January, 1915 and with its completion the trade between the eastern and western coasts of this country will be revolutionized, for the carriage of heavy bulk merchandise between the Pacific and the Atlantic coast is almost certain to be by water. This will reduce the trans-continental business to the carriage of more valuable classes of merchandise which can profitably pay a higher rate of transportation. Nevertheless, this will change the character of international trade, will bring the eastern coast of America more closely in touch with the western coast of America to the Pacific ports.

"China is waking up. She is approaching a period of development that cannot ignore her trade and argument for independence as a customer and as a trader with this country, while Japan and all the other Oriental countries are moving forward with giant steps in the commercial competition of the world.

The many prophecies that have been made that in the next half century the commercial progress of the world is to be seen more decidedly in the Pacific than anywhere else, are certainly well founded and under these conditions it behooves us Americans interested in pushing our trade into every quarter of the globe, to take steps to repair a condition that exists in reference to our merchant marine that is humiliating to our national pride and most burdensome to us in competition with other nations in obtaining international trade.

"We maintain a protective tariff to encourage our manufacturing, farming and mining industries at home within our jurisdiction but when we assume to enter into competition upon the high seas in trade between international ports, our jurisdiction to control that trade as far as the vessels of other nations are concerned of course ceases and the question we have to meet is how with the greater wages that we pay, with the more stringent laws that we enact for the protection of our sailors and with the protective system making a difference in the price between the necessities to be used in the maintenance of a merchant marine, we shall enable that merchant marine to compete with the merchant marine of the rest of the world.

ther, for it will be found on examination of the methods pursued in old countries with respect to their merchant marine that there is now extended by way of subsidies by the various governments to their respective ships upwards of thirty-five million dollars and this offers another means by which in the competition the American merchant ship is driven out of business, finds itself utterly unable to hold against its foreign competitors.

"Not only this but so handicapped is the American merchant marine today that in selecting auxiliary ships with which to make our navy an instrument of offense or defense or indeed in sending it around the world as a fleet, we have to call on vessels sailing under a foreign flag to carry the coal and to supply the other needs of such a journey. Were we compelled to go to war today our merchant marine lacks altogether a sufficient tonnage of auxiliary unarmed ships absolutely necessary to the proper operation of the navy and were war to come on we should have to purchase such vessels from foreign countries and this might under the laws governing neutrals be almost difficult.

"The trade between the eastern parts of the United States and South America is a most valuable trade and now equals something like $250,000,000, but European nations, appreciating the growing character of this trade have by subsidies and other means of encouragement so increased the sailings of large and well equipped vessels from Europe to the ports of South America as to affect the proportion of trade which is coming to the United States by the very limited service of a direct character between New York and southern ports.

"I need not tell you of the inadequacy of the American shipping marine on the Pacific coast and the growing power for commercial powers in this regard of the empire of Japan. Japan is one of the most active and generous countries in the matter of subsidizing its merchant marine that we have and the effect is only too visible in an examination of the statistics.

"For this reason, it seems to me that there is no subject to which congress can better devote its attention in the coming session than that of a bill which shall encourage our merchant marine in such a way as to establish American lines directly between New York and other eastern ports and South American ports and between our Pacific coast ports and the Orient and Philippines.

"The earnings of the American mail from $500,000 to $8,000,000 a year. The application of that amount would be quite sufficient to put on a satisfactory basis two or three Oriental lines and several lines from the East to South America. Of course we are familiar with the argument that this would be contributing to private companies out of the treasury fund of the United States, but we are thus contributing in various ways on similar principles in effect by our protective tariff law, by our river and harbor bills and by our reclamation service. We are not putting money in the pockets of the ship owners, but

FIRST PRIZE

OVER $13,500 WORTH OF ADDITIONAL PRIZES

NO CHARGE OF ANY KIND TO ENTER. YOU HAVE THE SAME OPPORTUNITY AS ANYONE ELSE TO WIN.

We have never known a more interesting contest or one which offered such valuable prizes absolutely free. This combines the fascination of the cut-up puzzle and the skill of arranging the books so as to form the name of a famous piano. This grand free distribution of over $13,500 worth of prizes is of vital interest to any home without a piano. Be sure to try.

Put out the books and paste them standing up on line 1-2 so as to form a famous piano name, a familiar name to all, one of the oldest and best known in the musical world. The word piano is also formed by the books and is to be put after the name, thus—PIANO. The nearest correct answer will be given the $365 Piano absolutely free. Next nearest correct answers prize certificates as stated below.

Everyone has an equal opportunity. You may get the piano or a high certificate, as well as anyone else. If you care for music and want a piano, this is the greatest opportunity you will ever have. This contest was especially prepared for pianists homes, and it will be the means of our distributing hundreds of pianos. We are placing this large advertising sum ($13,500) directly among piano buyers, where it will do the most good. Instead of spending it in expensive magazine advertising, we want piano buyers to win the piano by the prize certificate by their skill. There is no catch or chance. Read the simple condition. Send your answer in early. Start on it tonight.

THE PRIZES First prize—A fine new piano valued at $365. Second prize—A certificate of credit for $125. Third prize—A certificate of credit for $110. The next six best answers will be given a credit certificate for $30. Following these in groups of six or more, each contestant sending in the next best answer will be given a credit certificate of $1 less than those previous—that is, six at $29, next six at $28, etc., until the amount has been awarded. Special advertising appropriation—In addition to the above prizes, the company will voluntarily issue to each of the remaining contestants a special certificate of credit, of not less than $25, as an award for their effort in this contest.

These certificates are good on the purchase of any new Biallet & Davis, Conway or Kimball piano or Player piano in our warehouses at regular retail price. Time of certificate is limited. Certificates cannot be applied on any purchase made previous to October 7, 1909. Only one certificate may be applied on the purchase of one piano. In case the judges find two or more answers of equal merit, duplicates of the prize offered will be given to each. All answers must be in before 5 p.m., October 7, 1909. Copies of this advertisement will be furnished free on application at this office.

"JIM" JEFFRIES

Thinks Fight Purse Should be $150,000

PARIS, Oct. 1.—James J. Jeffries, the American heavyweight who has been training here for his proposed fight with Jack Johnson, said yesterday that he had almost completely recovered from the cold which he contracted several days ago while attending the race track in London. He will leave here for London on Tuesday next and will take the steamer for the United States on Oct. 18.

Jeffries expresses himself as disappointed at the offer of $55,000 for a fight, saying: "I am the champion of the world. I have everything to lose and nothing to gain. Therefore, I don't want to fight for a purse of less than $150,000. I should prefer to fight in America, rather than in Australia, and have reason to believe that the governors of several states would be willing to allow a fight to take place." Continuing, the big heavyweight said he considered himself in splendid physical condition, and that the only thing he feared was a man with a powerful left.

CITY COUNCIL

Took Action on Death of Ald. Turner

Special meetings of both branches of the city council were called last night, and both branches met in joint convention to take action upon the death of the late Alderman John D. Turner. The joint convention was held in the council chamber. The mayor presided and the following committees were appointed.

The committee on funeral consisted of the mayor, members of the board of aldermen and President Stanley L. Qua and Councilmen McKenzie, Welch, Kilpatrick, Achin and Tracy.

A joint order to appoint two aldermen and three councilmen to the committee on resolutions was adopted. Those appointed were: Aldermen Adams and Badger and Councilmen Flaughan, Butler and Vignati. Alderman Connors and Councilman Kilpatrick spoke briefly in appreciation of Mr. Turner.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME COMMITTEE DISCUSSES MANY MATTERS

The breakfast committee of St. Peter's Holy Name society met last night and discussed at length plans for the event on Oct. 10th. Chairman Wm. E. Daly presided and reports were heard from various sub-committees, showing that a large crowd is anticipated at the coming communion day than previously. The members are finishing the details for the breakfast, discussed plans for the concert of the society. Remarks were made by Daniel F. Brady, Michael H. McDough, James Cook, Michael McGillich, Vito Drea, Richard Lyons, and Pres. Daly. All the speakers referred to the bright future for the society and predicted a most successful fall and winter season. Mr. Cook of the literary committee was particularly enthusiastic over the prospects for an enjoyable season, and said his committee has several plans under consideration for bringing before the membership several well known speakers.

JUSTICE GAYNOR

Nominated for Mayor by Democrats

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Justice Gaynor was nominated for mayor by the democratic city convention last night.

The nomination was made amid great enthusiasm and by an unanimous vote.

Tammany had its own way at the convention, which initiates the democratic campaign for control of the city government for the next four years. Of the 1675 delegates represented, Tammany had control to all intents and purposes of almost the entire representation of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, mastering 118 votes.

The Tammany cohorts were so strong that they overrode with the greatest ease the opposition headed by State Senator Patrick H. McCarron of Brooklyn who hoped for the re-nomination of Comptroller Metz of that borough. The convention nominated for this office Robert H. Moore, president of the Commercial Trust company, the Tammany selection.

In the majority fight, Justice Gaynor's chief opponent will be Otto T. Bannard, president of the New York Trust company, who was nominated by the republicans a few days ago, and who has some assurances of support from the Unionists. There yet remains the possibility that the Independent league will make the contest a triangular one by naming a separate ticket.

The platform adopted by the democratic convention dealt broadly with national, state and municipal questions, denouncing the recent tariff legislation and objecting to any interference in local affairs by the state legislature.

Regarding city affairs, the platform advocates municipal ownership, the building of additional subways by the city, retrenchment in expenses, the three platoon system for the police, and the most rigid enforcement of the eight hour day for city and public service employees.

There was no mention of even indirect reference in the platform to the retiring administration of Mayor McClellan, who led the party to victory four years ago. This rather astonishing omission could hardly be considered a comment by many of the delegates. A resolution on the death of Governor Johnson of Minnesota, extending sympathy to the family, was carried by a rising vote.

Aside from the majority caucus, chief interest in the fall campaign will center on the contest for alderman. This office, however, is a county office, and the democratic candidate will be nominated at a separate convention later. District Attorney Jerome's attack received scornful comment.

brief mention from several of the speakers tonight.

Justice Gaynor, the mayoralty candidate, is a native of Onondaga county, New York, and is 58 years old. He became nationally known nearly twenty years ago for his work in breaking up rings within the democratic party and for his action in securing the conviction of John Y. McKane, a Brooklyn boss, for election frauds. He was prominently mentioned for the second place on the national democratic ticket at Denver last year.

The ticket named is:

For mayor—Justice William J. Gaynor, Brooklyn.

For comptroller—Robert M. Moore, Manhattan.

For president of the board of aldermen—John Galvin, Manhattan.

Money deposited in the Lowell Five Cent Savings bank on or before Saturday, October 2, 1909, begins to draw interest from that date.

ARE YOU, GOOD WOMAN, AT YOUR BEST?

Many beautiful women find themselves losing good looks and health—slowly fading from a cause unknown to them. She has no appetite, and the food she does eat seems to do her no good. Why? If you should ask her what the trouble is, she would say, "I am just tired out." But the real cause is constipation and its resulting condition—bad blood. Just this what habitual neglect of the bowels means—weakness instead of good health; nervousness instead of vigor; cheerfulness replaced by depression; happiness by misery. A week's use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the liver and the bowels, immediately unload the congestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities. These little pills will soon make you feel and look at your best. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

BIG NAVAL PARADE

Feature of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—History in the making threatened to eclipse the history of the printed page today as the principal attraction of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. With Commander Peary aboard and every other member of the crew that accompanied him on his quest of the North pole the steamer or Roosevelt joined the naval parade up the lower Hudson to meet the Half Moon and Clermont at Newburg and if Henry Hudson and Robert Fulton had commanded these reproductions of their famous craft they would have had cause for jealousy.

This naval parade was the feature of the celebration today as far as Manhattan was concerned. In Brooklyn the historical pageant of last Tuesday was repeated and there was everywhere the usual expectation of airplane flights but the great majority of sightseers flocked to the banks of the Hudson. There they saw in addition of Peary's vessel a great fleet of excursion steamers and other craft which rendezvoused between Fort Lee and Spuyten Duyvel about ten o'clock fell into line for the fifty mile journey to Newburg. With the historic Half Moon and Clermont already up the river the chief figure in the gathering of craft in the lower river was the Roosevelt. Her progress from quarantine early in the day to her dock at the foot of West 42d street was marked by a continuous blast of whistles and when she came on Riverside drive where the crowd was gathered and started on her way up the river the salute was taken up by thousands of cheering voices.

The nucleus of the lower Hudson fleet that started this morning was a squadron of one small United States cruiser, twelve torpedo boats and four submarines. These with the Castine, the parent boat of the submarine squadron, and four other submarines which are acting as escort to the Half Moon and the Clermont, make 22 warships representing Uncle Sam in today's demonstration. The other members of the American war fleet and the visiting foreign men-o-war remained at their anchorages in the Hudson, where they have rested since they assembled last Saturday.

The Half Moon and the Clermont spent the night at Oesling and had a short time this morning to reach Newburg. Their first stop was at Peekskill, where they were the central figures in a local celebration.

After the arrival of the fleet at Newburg there was a street parade of 5000 men in which the sailors and marines from the warships joined. The parade will afterward be guests at a big "short dinner" at the New York division of the river parade will return tonight, while the up-river squadrons will escort the Half Moon and the Clermont as far north as Troy, stopping to land them to several local celebrations on the way up.

At Cornwall, just below Newburg, on the west side of the river, the Half Moon and the Clermont were received by "Indians" who put out in canoes to meet them as the tribesmen they represented did when Hudson's craft first appeared there 300 years ago.

Tonight the sailors and marines of all the warships in the harbor will attend a reception at a Hudson open-air park given by the Seamen Gunners League of the United States.

The crowds of visitors which reached their maximum here yesterday began to diminish today. A majority of the celebration guests, however, came to see the week through and thousands are kept here by the hope of seeing an airplane flight up the North river. Their arrangement with the celebration committee gives Wright and Curtiss until Oct. 4 to make a successful flight. Because Curtiss is expected to leave on Saturday night to keep an engagement at St. Louis it is believed that he will make another flight as soon as the weather allows.

Both aviators said this morning that the prospects of an exhibition today were far from promising.

Newburg, which in revolutionary days was the headquarters of Gen. Washington, today welcomed the Half Moon and the Clermont and witnessed their formal transfer from the lower Hudson commission to the upper Hudson commission, which will pilot them through another week of the Hudson-Fulton celebration in the cities lying to the north. Accompanied by an imposing array of naval and river craft the little vessels which began the day's festivities at Peekskill ploughed their way through the quiet waters of the Hudson and anchored in the bay, while Gov. Hughes, the members of the Hudson-Fulton commission from up and down the river, members of the legislature, the foreign and other guests, were welcomed to Mayor Benjamin McClellan as they came ashore. Down at Cornwall, four miles below Newburg, the Half Moon and the Clermont had anchored to await the coming of the naval parade from New York earlier in the day. Members of the Waor-neck tribe of Red Men, gay with paint and feathers, arrived on the shore, sent out a welcoming detachment in canoes to greet the Half Moon, while guns boomed out a welcome from Palmer's park.

In Newburg the fleet was received with a military salute, fired from Washington's headquarters overlooking the river. While the brief formal ceremonies attending the transfer of the Half Moon and the Clermont to the upper Hudson commission were taking place the sailors and marines from the American and foreign fleets were landing further down the river, preparatory to taking part in the military parade which was one of the chief features of the day ashore.

Gov. Hughes was the guest of former

Gov. Benjamin Odell during his stay in the city.

Newburg has been celebrating Old Home Week since Saturday, and the city is ablaze of color. The military parade which Gov. Hughes reviewed from a grandstand at the court house was made up of two divisions, naval and military. Detachments of sailors and marines from the warships and revenue cutters, including those from foreign shores, and naval militiamen composed the first division, while the second was made up largely of state organizations. The commission's plans originally provided for a river parade from Albany today to meet the fleet from New York, but that portion of the program was abandoned.

The vessels in the river parade left New York at various times, depending upon their speed. The Castine in charge of Commander Kline and the submarine Octopus Tarantula, Cuttlefish, Viper and Plunger passed up the river last night and met the Half Moon and the Clermont this morning. The gunboats Admon and Vasey which were detailed to the New York naval militia went up stream last night. The revenue cutters in the parade were the Androsorgin, Gresham, Molawik, Seneca and Itasca.

JOY RIDERS

CAME TO GRIEF AS USUAL—LOCKED UP—CAR BURNED

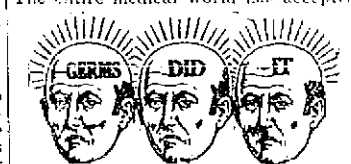

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—A joy ride and the careless use of a lighted match resulted last night in a gasoline explosion, which partially destroyed the big touring car of Neil McNeal, a well known Dorchester contractor and also brought out the Jamaica Plain fire apparatus to extinguish a fire in the voting booth at the junction of Lamartine and Boylston streets, caused by the burning of Henry Bacon, the chauffeur of the car, and two of his friends, Walter Cahill and Joseph Conboy, both of Jamaica Plain, who were with him at the time, were locked up at station 13 charged with drunkenness. A fourth man escaped and is sought by the police.

They ran against a polling booth and

DANDRUFF

Falling Hair and Itching Scalp are Caused by Microbes

There is no doubt about it. Doctors Sabouraud proved it when he infected a guinea pig with dandruff germs and all its hair disappeared in a short time. The entire medical world has accepted

Dr. Sabouraud's discovery as final. Ask any worthy physician.

Paris leads the world in knowledge of diseases of the hair and remedies for the same.

And Parisian Sage which can now be obtained at leading druggists all over America is the one great remedy that kills the dandruff germs.

And that is why Carter & Sherburne say to every reader of The Sun if Parisian Sage does not banish dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks, they will refund the purchase price.

Dandruff is the forerunner of baldness. Take care of your hair while you have hair to take care of. Kill the dandruff germs now before the dandruff germs kill your hair.

Use Parisian Sage, the guaranteed Dandruff Cure and delightful hair dressing.

It is used extensively by ladies of refinement because it keeps the scalp absolutely clean and gives a bewitching lustre to the hair. ### SEN. CONVENTION

At Republican Headquarters Tomorrow

The republican state convention will be held tomorrow at Boston, and Lowell, as usual, will be well represented, though quite a few well known republicans will remain at home to attend the seventh senatorial convention, which will be held at republican headquarters at 2 o'clock when A. G. Walsh of this city, ex-Rep. Bennett of Salem and Senator Grimes of Wilmington will fight it out for the nomination, with the result in doubt at this writing.

The 19th district republican representative convention will be held in this city on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The date for the 14th district convention has not yet been set. The eighth district democratic senatorial convention will be held in democratic headquarters, Central street on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, but the other dates have not yet been set by the democrats.

PATTISON NOMINATED

BUZZARDS BAY, Oct. 1.—Representative Thomas Pattison of Essexville won the senatorial nomination at the second "cave district" convention here today. Rep. Pattison was opposed by John E. White of Tisbury, whom he defeated by only one vote. The poll of the delegates was:

Pattison 29, White 19.

Three Crack-a-jack Values

It stands to reason that the man who manufactures an article can sell it directly to the consumer for less money than the dealer who has to buy from the maker, pay him a profit and then add a profit for himself.

King manufactures every garment they offer and sells directly to you, which saves you the middleman's profit. All other stores are dealers who buy their clothing from manufacturers, paying them enormous prices for their goods, because the magazine and other advertising they do must be settled for, all of which in the end You pay for.

REMEMBER, Mr. Man, you pay for all this expensive advertising, for it is added to the dealer's cost; then the dealer adds his profit.

HERE ARE FACTS THAT ADMIT OF NO DISPUTE:

Our Suits of All Worsteds at $9.95 Will cost you elsewhere $15.00.

Our Suits of All Worsteds at $11.95 Will cost you elsewhere $18.00.

Our Suits of All Worsteds at $14.95 Will cost you elsewhere $22.50.

These are the three crack-a-jack values we call your attention to. The difference is the saving to you of what the dealer has to add for his profit and the extra cost to him from the manufacturer who makes every dealer pay for the advertising he does for them.

If there is any doubt in your mind where you can get the most value in clothing for your money, come to this store and let's show you the new Fall styles.

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months Had Fearful Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her right cheek. I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ringworm. He prescribed an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the condition the ointment seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor who after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which did not help either. The disease on the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. Her cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to gaze. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief.

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent for one for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red and you can imagine how surprised I was. I cannot find words enough to praise Cuticura and I do not know what would have become of my baby but for it. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and quite well. I used three boxes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Sulfur and I never use any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for doing so. I will send you one of her pictures which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. P. Guntion, Shelton, Ia., July 13, 1908."

Cuticura Soap (25c), Ointment (50c), Sulfur (50c), and Cuticura Cream (25c) are sold everywhere. Write for a free trial. Send 10c for a box of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. Write for a free trial. Send 10c for a box of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY

Says in the January 21st issue:

"There was a time not long ago, when shares in the Mergenthaler Linotype Company could be bought for ten dollars each. That was when the company was getting started. The beginning was small, but there was an unlimited opportunity. Now the stock of the Linotype is held in every reputable establishment of any consequence in the country, and the stock is worth $150 a share. Early investors, who were intelligent and foresighted, have made a profit of 200 per cent."

"I could give you many other instances like these which show how those who had the opportunity, and who had the wisdom, to accept it when it came to them, have made splendid profits on small sums invested."

"There is only one way to make extraordinary profits on a small investment—to make a fortune by a single financial stroke—and that is to obtain an interest in a company which has a solid foundation and the opportunity of expanding its business to immense proportions. But you must secure your interest at the very start. If you wait until the company is paying enormous dividends, you will find the stock out of your reach."

"Such chances do not come along very often. They are quickly taken by the few who are keen enough to appreciate them."

RACE FROM N. Y. TO ALBANY

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Capt. in Thomas G. Tomlinson and George L. Tomlinson both failed in their first attempt to fly from New York to Albany for the New York World's Tribune prize. Their dirigible balloon, a small, beautiful craft from Riverside drive near Grant's tomb, had been sharing the course out over the Hudson river, where the military fleet of battleships lay, while Tomlinson took the same route over Harlem and the Bronx. The photographs were taken when Tomlinson's ship was over St. John's church and the dirigible was near Grant's tomb. After ten minutes' flight, Tomlinson's dirigible got out of gear, and he alighted on the surface of the river. The ship was slightly damaged. Tomlinson sailed to White Plains, where he was forced to land because of a leak in his oil tank. Both men were prepared for a second trial.

DIED SUDDENLY
Agent Ingram of Washington Mills
LAWRENCE, Oct. 1.—James Ingram, one of the best-known men in this city, died suddenly yesterday, following an operation. He had been agent of the Washington Mills plant of the American Woollen company in this city since 1889.

He was born in Willsboro, N.Y., in 1842 and got little schooling there, but worked in the mills. In 1874 he came to New York and secured employment as a weaver. Later he was in Providence, spending 10 or 12 years. He came to the New Washington Mills in 1889 as an overseer of weaving, seeing it grow from 50 looms to 1,500 in 1899.

In 1891 he was made superintendent of the cloth manufacturing department, and in 1896 he succeeded E. F. Chapin as agent. He was also, in 1898, made agent of the Riverside mill of Providence. He was a widower and had three adult sons.

YACHT DESTROYED

NOANK, Conn., Oct. 1.—The auxiliary yacht Senta owned by Captain J. Albert Fish of New York and flying the colors of the Columbia Yacht club of New York and the Rhode Island Yacht club, was destroyed by fire and an explosion while anchored on Long Point early today. The owner and captain, Martha Seagan, and crew of three, escaped in a boat but lost their effects. A leak in the gas tank probably was the cause of the fire. The yacht was built by William Fife & Sons on the Clyde, eight years ago, but had been on this side of the Atlantic about six years, the Southampton, England registry being retained although the home port was New York. The yacht was valued at about $35,000. It had come here to lay up for the season in a few days.

This morning Mr. Fish arose early to go duck hunting. He left the yacht but returned for ammunition. As it was dark below he lit a match going down the companionway and instantly gas which had leaked into the cabin ignited. The members of the crew barely got overboard in the boat before the flames had worked to the gas storage tank and a heavy explosion had resulted.

AN EXPLOSION

Destroyed a Powder
Mill at So. Acton

SOUTH ACTON, Oct. 1.—An explosion occurred while no one was in the building today destroyed the number 1 wheel mill of the American Powder works here. No one was hurt and the remainder of the plant was not affected. The damage is estimated at about $5000 and the cause of the explosion is unknown. The number 1 mill blew up on May 20 last, causing a detonation that was heard for many miles around and shook the earth in places as far distant as Boston. Today's explosion which wrecked the rebuilt mill was of far less intensity.

CAPT. WORTHEN

ATTENDED REUNION OF SURVIVORS OF "GALLANT TWELFTH"

Capt. George E. Worthen, superintendent of state aid, attended the reunion of the survivors of the "Gallant Twelfth" at Concord, N. H., a few days ago. It was the first time since the famous fighting regiment was mustered out on the old camp ground at the close of the Civil war that the surviving members of the Fighting Twelfth New Hampshire gathered at the capital of the state for their annual reunion, and Mr. Worthen says the meeting was one of the most interesting that he ever attended.

It was a day of pleasant happenings for him, and while a great many deplored the fact that the weather clerk saw it to send rain, the most pleasant incident of the day for Mr. Worthen was due to the rain.

He did not go prepared for it and as he came out from the hall he stood rather undecided as to what he would do. He was turning the question over in his mind when a hand touched his shoulder and a voice said: "Comrade, come under my tent." It was the voice of Gov. Quincy of New Hampshire. "Your Excellency," said Mr. Worthen, "I would like to share your tent, but my wife is with me." "Bring your wife along," said the governor. "The tent is large enough for three," and the chief magistrate of the state across the line escorted Mr. and Mrs. Worthen to their hotel.

His Grace Archbishop O'Connell in barouche with Rev. T. Walsh, Smith, O. M. I. and other Clergymen.

The Holy Name society will meet at the Sacred Heart church at 12.45 Sunday afternoon.
The Mathews will be in line on Thornehill street at 1.30 p. m.
The Hibernians will form on Gorham street at 1.30 p. m. and delegations from Catholic societies on Congress street.

The O. M. I. Cadets will occupy the right of line on Davis square and the Holy Name Society will form on Central street. All the societies and delegations turning out are to be in position at 1.30 p. m. and ready to start promptly at 2 p. m. The order of James Ward, Chief Marshal.

VAHEY AND FOSS

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—James H. Vahey was nominated for governor yesterday at the democratic convention in Faneuil hall after his opponent, Mayor John T. Connelley, had put up a fight and polled a vote that surprised every delegate in the convention.

Eugene N. Foss, the republican insurgent, was nominated for lieutenant-governor, but until some strenuous work was put in to make his nomination unanimous.

The ticket named is as follows:
For governor—James H. Vahey, Watertown.
For lieutenant-governor—Eugene N. Foss, Boston.

For secretary of state—David T. Clark, Williamstown.
For treasurer—James H. Bryan, Westfield.

For attorney-general—Harvey N. Shepard, Boston.

For auditor—Alexis Boyer, Southbridge.

The state committeemen at large, by districts, are:

1—Daniel F. Doherty, Westfield.
2—Jas. W. O'Brien, Northampton.
3—David E. O'Connell, Worcester.
4—Roger Sherman Hoar, Concord.
5—Edward Gallacher, Lowell.
6—Frank C. Richardson, Essex.
7—Walter N. Crocker, Lynn.
8—Fred D. Macdonald, Cambridge.
9—Joseph A. Maynard, Boston.
10—John E. Baldwin, Boston.
11—John F. McDonald, Boston.
12—Albion C. Drinkwater, Braintree.

FRANK DUCOIN

MEETS SOME OF HIS OLD FRIENDS IN LOWELL

Mr. Frank DuCoin, agent for B. C. Whitney's attraction "A Broken Idol" which played here last Saturday was in town today and met some of his old friends. The piece will be presented here again at the Opera house next Thursday evening. Many persons who saw the performance last Saturday, having requested Manager Ward of the Opera house to endeavor to get a return engagement. Mr. DuCoin has a great knowledge of the theatrical business and enjoys an acquaintance with all the big men in the profession.

HELD A WHIST PARTY

A whist party in aid of the parish table at the coming bazaar of the St. John's society was held last night in St. John's hall. There was a very large number present to enjoy the evening, and some of the champions must have been there for the scores were very high. Whist was started at 8.30 and continued until 10.30, when a short musical entertainment was given. The lady's prize was given to Miss Maud O'Neil, and the gentlemen's prize to Mr. Owen Seaton. The consolation prize for the gentleman was taken by Merrill Gagnon, and Edna Cox captured the lady's prize. The scores were: Belle Valentine and Mary Cox. The affair was ably managed by Mrs. Patrick Lowe, assisted by Mrs. William Cunliffe. The accompanist of the evening was Gertrude Quigley.

28 BALLOONS

ZURICH, Oct. 1.—Twenty-eight balloons started from Zurich today in the international pool race, a competition for balloons of all dimensions, the first prize of $500 to go to the pilot landing nearest to a point previously selected by him. The entries comprised thirteen German, seven Swiss, one French, one Spanish and one Italian pilotship. The pilots were given a selection of fifteen points at which they could propose to land.

Prince Roland Bonaparte was today re-elected president of the Aeronautic Federation. The 1910 meeting of the association will take place at Bordeaux.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Miss Alice Gertrude Nickles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nickles, of 10 Sacred street, gave a party to a number of her friends last evening in honor of her twelfth birthday. Numerous gifts were received by the young hostess including a beautiful gold watch the gift of her parents. There was a pretty musical program games were enjoyed and refreshments were served. When Miss Alice's many friends "broke camp" for home they left with her many wishes for more happy birthdays.

BORNSTEIN & QUINN
160-162 MIDDLESEX STREET.

Asked if he felt confident that the paving of Merrimack street and Merrimack square would be gone through with before the arrival of Jack Frost, Lowell H. Putnam, superintendent of streets, said: "Barring an unusual amount of wet weather, we will finish with the paving of Merrimack street and Merrimack square before the frost sets in. Of course if the railroad company should cause us any delay in the square it would change the complexion of things, but I do not expect any delay from that quarter. I think that the railroad company will have everything ready when we get there. It is possible that the frost may catch us in the middle street, but I doubt it."

The work of paving Merrimack street has gone along at more than a fair rate of speed. One side of the street from Dutton to Central street is finished and the street department has started on the other side. Mr. Putnam said today that he had foreman on the job who were hustling and he allowed they were pushing the job for all it was worth.

Some Sewer Work

To close up for the fall the street department, which includes the sewer department, will have several odd jobs to do, including the putting in of a sewer in Lawrence street, which will be begun at once. There is another small job in the Oaklands that has to do with a brook. The brook has been cut up and twisted all out of shape by the laying of the Oakland sewer, and what is left of its diverted course has caused more or less trouble, but the brook is deemed and is about to lose its identity. The superintendent of streets has made up his mind that the only way to cure the ill is to take possession of the brook and the poor little thing is to be turned into the sewer.

Rather Costly Ordinance

There has been introduced into the city council by Councilman Genest, an ordinance to have the assessors, after the current year, issue a special bill for each individual parcel of real estate instead of lumping it as at the present time. This ordinance has gone through the common council, and will be up to the aldermen at their next meeting. The old heads look upon the ordinance as a very expensive one, and they claim that the getting out of separate bills would so increase the work in the assessors' department as to require more clerical assistance. It would cost more to write the bills and would delay payments in the treasurer's office.

They cite, as an instance, the property of A. C. Wheelock. Mr. Wheelock has probably 300 pieces of property, and if Mr. Genest's ordinance went into effect it would mean that a separate bill would have to be made out for every one of the 300 pieces. They argue that the passing of the ordinance would be a big mistake.

Molly Varnum Chapter

The Molly Varnum Chapter, D. A. R., is occupying the city solicitor's attention at the present time. It will be remembered that the chapter sought to recover through the courts on back taxes paid on the Spaulding house. The case went to the superior court and Judge Bell found in favor of the chapter. He found that they represented either a literary, benevolent, charitable or scientific organization. Judge Bell didn't specify but any of these would be exempt from taxation under the laws of Massachusetts. City Solicitor Duncan, however, does not think that the chapter comes under the exemption law and the matter will go to the supreme court. Mr. Duncan is preparing his brief.

The matter of itself does not amount to much so far as actual money is concerned as it is less than $50, but there is always the danger of "others to come" and the city solicitor is anxious to have the supreme court pass upon it.

Natives Are Slow

Of the five couples who have registered their matrimonial intentions at the city clerk's office within the last 15 hours, two are from Greece, one from Turkey and one from Austria. The causes of foreigners on the books of sorrow and joy are more plentiful than are the names of natives. Tell it to Teddy.

Not "Billy" But "Dad"

When City Solicitor Duncan was asked today if his office had absorbed the office of the city clerk, the solicitor said he hadn't heard of any such merger. It seems it was inadvertently stated yesterday that the city solicitor had gone to Boston to attend the semi-annual convention of the City and Town Clerks' association. It was City Clerk Dahman who went and took the mayor along for protection as a guest. The worst thing the city solicitor did yesterday was to call a republican convention together and while that is bad enough the good Lord in His mercy may give him time to repent.

Bids Called For

FOUND HIS WIFE

Haverhill Woman Had Been Missing Since Tuesday

Haverhill, Oct. 1.—The mysterious case of Mrs. Gertrude Roswell, wife of William H. Roswell, who left her home last Tuesday after writing a note to her husband that she intended to commit suicide, was partially cleared up last night by the finding of the woman at the railroad station at Boston, N. H., by her husband.

Having twice before attempted suicide, once by gas in her home and a second time by drowning in Salisbury Beach, the woman's condition, however, showed Tuesday in her relatives to fear that the third attempt had succeeded.

Although Mrs. Roswell appeared to be in good health, her condition was such that she could not be left alone.

The woman was not on board and the conductor found nothing of such a passenger.

A few days after Mrs. George Newington of Haverhill received a telephone message from Mrs. Roswell, who said she was in Boston and wanted to see her husband.

Mrs. Roswell notified the Boston police and immediately went to that place. She found his wife sitting in the waiting room of the station.

After last night Mr. Roswell returned home with his wife.

THE MAURETANIA

Broke the Trans-Atlantic Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Forty-four minutes more was clipped from the trans-Atlantic record by the Cunard line Mauretania, which arrived yesterday at New York from Liverpool and Queenstown.

The Mauretania, which was the first from her sister ship, the Lusitania, on her latest trip, completed her run in 274 hours, 51 minutes, 4 seconds, a record of 26,066 hours and 41 minutes, 4 seconds, for her best previous trip was 4 days, 11 hours and 25 minutes, and the average speed record had heretofore stood at 25.7 knots an hour.

been the ardent foe of police graft. He has done much toward stamping out the bad habit around the police stations. On one occasion he conducted a riot against a saloon which refused to open through police protection and held court in the police station at night to try the accused men. ## REV. FR. SEARLE

Says We Shall be Inside Comet's Tail

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 1.—The calculation of Frank B. Seagrave, of Providence, R. I., that Halley's comet will be nearest the earth on May 13, 1910, is confirmed by Rev. Father Searle, of New York, superior general of the Paulist Fathers, and widely known as an astronomer and especially as the discoverer of the "asteroid Pandora."

A lengthy communication from Father Searle was received last night at the Harvard college observatory, where he was formerly an assistant. Father Searle bases his calculations on observations made at 12 observatories, San Jose, Cal., on September 12, 13 and 14 and on the elements given by Professors Cowell and Chandra in March last.

Father Searle states that May 13, the earth and the comet, which will be in heliocentric conjunction in longitude, the distance being 1.26 degrees, is minutes. The heliocentric latitude of the comet would be minus 7 minutes.

There will be an actual transit of the comet over the earth's disk, according to these elements, but Father Searle says a slight change might produce one. "At any rate," says Father Searle, "it seems hardly probable that we shall on May 13 be inside the comet's tail."

Father Searle, in his calculations made public yesterday, said that the earth and the comet will meet at the same place, but not in the same path. He said the earth would not be undisturbed, but that it will be swept by "star dust," similar to the display of June 30, 1882, when the tail of the comet of 1811, passed some 100,000 miles above the earth's surface. "After the beginning of the civil war," Father Searle said, "I began to wonder if Halley's comet, the 11th of November, would be the last to come near to the earth in 1910."

SESSION ON CONVENIENT TERMS

DOCTORS RESIGN

Said to Have Had Trouble With the Matron

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 1.—As the result of a disagreement between the medical staff and the matron, Miss Augusta C. Robertson, at the Elliot hospital, the staff, with the exception of one physician, has resigned. Eighteen physicians have attached their signatures to a document of resignation, which will be presented to the board of trustees of the institution.

The doctors who have resigned are: Drs. William M. Parsons, L. Melville French, George D. Towne, H. D. W. Carver, H. B. Curran, W. H. Putnam, C. F. Flanders, G. M. Watson, C. W. McKen, J. Francis Robinson, David W. Parker, Arthur E. Chen, H. W. N. Bennett, P. N. Rogers, C. O. Curn, E. A. Jones, J. E. O'Connor and Emdon Fritz. This comprises the entire medical staff, with the exception of Dr. George C. Wilkins.

From the side of the medical staff an attempt to secure just the charges against the matron were met with a dedication to issue a formal complaint unless the trustees of the hospital should take such action. The statement was made that as soon as it was proper the staff would make public charges in detail and would specify all items of complaint, which the physicians aver, are numerous.

There is said to be nothing in any way to reflect on Miss Robertson in a personal way, but that the basis of the charges consist in complaints that the matron had frequently disobeyed the physicians in the rules laid down for the care of patients, that under her management the hospital was not conducted with all due care to medical exigencies, that Miss Robertson overruled the doctors in certain cases, and that she had criticized one doctor in the presence of another, etc. The staff observations reach the point whereby the matron is alleged by the physicians to be incompetent for the position she holds.

There is a general denial from the matron, who feels secure in her position because of backing of the trustees of the hospital. Miss Robertson is a graduate of the Massachusetts general hospital and has had 20 years' experience in hospital work.

A LITTLE RED SPOT

Novel Experiment by Which It May Be Made to Disappear

A peculiar feature about psoriasis, the new skin discovery, is that no one is asked to buy it without first sending to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, for an experimental sample and applying same to an affected part of the skin, about the size of a silver dollar. It will clear the spot so treated in twenty-four hours at remarkable speed and demonstration of its power.

While psoriasis has been mentioned principally in connection with the cure of eczema, the most stubborn of skin diseases, it must be remembered that when used for such, hives, pimples, blotches, acne, itching feet, scaly scalp, chafing of infants and similar minor skin troubles its action is all the more pronounced, results being seen after an overnight application. As only a small quantity of psoria is necessary to cure such cases, a small box of the treatment, usually sufficient, has been placed on sale at Fells & Harkins' and Carter & Sherman's, and other leading drug stores in Lowell and throughout the country.

SEN. J. H. HIBBARD

Renominated by Republicans by Acclamation

Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard was renominated for senator by acclamation by the republicans of the eighth senatorial district yesterday afternoon in a thoroughly harmonious and perfunctory convention held at republican headquarters.

There were 25 delegates present out of a possible 49, representing the seven Lowell wards in the district and nine towns.

W. W. Duncan of Lowell, member of the state committee from the district, called the convention to order, and George H. Taylor of Lowell was made temporary chairman and Fred A. Russell of Duxbury temporary secretary. This organization was made permanent. The committee on credentials consisted of Messrs. Tuttle, Cheney and Dent of Lowell, Longley of Shirley, Butterfield of Tyngsboro, Sargent of Dunstable and Blake of Pepperell.

Senator Hibbard's name was placed in nomination by Wallace P. Butterfield of Tyngsboro and the nomination was by acclamation and the nomination was by acclamation.

Senator Hibbard was then escorted to the platform and he made a brief speech of thanks.

A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. David and Parthenius of Lowell and Higgins of Townsend, retired to arrange a list of names for district committee, and they reported as follows, which list was adopted:

For district committee—Lowell, ward 1, E. T. Goward; ward 2, Auguste P. Sarre; ward 3, W. A. Parthenius; ward 4, Fred A. Tuttle; ward 5, Clevis DeLanger; ward 6, James H. McKimley; ward 7, Albert W. Dent; ward 8, W. A. Bassett; Chelmsford, Wm. H. Hall; Dunstable, Frank H. Sargent; Groton, G. W. Shattuck; Pepperell, Edgar W. Blake; Tyngsboro, Wallace P. Butterfield; Townsend, J. J. Piper; Ashby, Harry Hingham; Shirley, S. W. Longley.

Wm. W. Duncan, on motion of Albert W. David, was re-elected a member of the state central committee.

S. W. Longley made a speech, urging the republicans of the district to get out a full party vote at the election.

Senator Hibbard provided a light lunch for the delegates.

Lowell Man Appointed

At the meeting of the republican state committee yesterday to arrange the list for the state convention, W. W. Duncan, the member from Lowell, appointed Royal E. Dent as the vice president from Lowell; Wm. E. Westall, on the committee on credentials; Solon W. Stevens, on committee on resolutions; and Frank A. Torrey of Groton, on the committee on ballots.

HOT OF ENTRIES

For Tomorrow's Races at Washington Park

The entries for the five mile and three mile races to be held at Washington park tomorrow in connection with the match between Dan O'Leary and Ed Holske's unknown closed at the Richardson hotel last evening and the number of entries insured two of the best races ever held here. In addition to the entries published in yesterday's Sun, the following were received last evening:

Five mile race: James A. He, Herman Inveniente, William Salmon, John Mahon, Charles Crossland, John Emerson, Peter Parshot, Daniel White, William Bernard, making 22 entries for the five mile race.

Three mile race for boys: Michael Harrington, Joseph Maloney, John Mello, Thomas Pagan, Herman Inveniente, Henry Reynolds, H. Wolf and Sarante Gendies, making 23 entries.

The entries will meet Mr. O'Leary at the Richardson hotel at 5 o'clock this evening to arrange for their names and admission to the grounds.

The course has been marked off "half" mile by the mile, thus giving those who desire to attend in carriages an opportunity to enter the grounds with their conveyances.

The smoothness of the course and the promptness of the arrangements for the race will give the spectators a most enjoyable and profitable afternoon.

Our Display and Sale of BLACK AND COLORED DRESS FABRICS

This is our fifth year selling the best productions from the foremost Dress Goods manufacturers of England, France, Germany, Austria and America. Comprising Homespuns, Diagonals, Tussah Crepe, Chiffon Broadcloths, Ottoman, French Serges, Royalties, Chevrons, Chiffon Panama, French Voiles, Satin Prunella, and many others. THE COLORS OF THE DRESS GOODS! Where did the dye masters find them? Dye vats have discounted nature's rarest tints. There are names for them, but they convey no sense of the shades and fractions of shades. You must see them.

BLACK DRESS GOODS—Full ranks—nothing missing from our Black Dress Goods stock. Variety great enough to respond to every taste and every need.

HERE IS THE LIST OF FAVORITES:

MURILLO SUITINGS

These all wool fabrics have goodness all their own. Not slazy, loosely woven kinds shown elsewhere. These fabrics on sale today are strongly defined, bold, striking, and are shown in a variety of new Fall colors and black. 44 inches wide. Value $1.00 a yard.

Price 75c

ALL WOOL SERGES

Serges are the fabrics that fashion seems to favor now for the new gown. The twills are even and firm and the finish is soft and rich. 50 inches wide, in the latest shades of Smoke, Navy Blue, Dark Wine, Myrtle Green, including Black and Cream. Value $1.25 a yard.

Price $1.00

WORSTED DIAGONALS

It is a just blossomed fabric—the thrown-up bias lines are definite and clean-cut, and their cross threads produce a glistening, changeable effect. It will be a leader during the Fall and Winter seasons. 54 inches wide. Value $2.00 a yard.

Price $1.50

BLACK LEUTINA PRUNELLA

What is having a more popular run than Prunella? There is just one answer to that question. Many of the handsomest suits for women are Prunella. A rich satin-faced fabric, permanent finish, will not spot with water. Value $1.25 a yard.

Price 98c

BLACK TUSSAH CREPE

There is a mild rage for Crepe. It is one of the newest, richest weaves—and it is full of crepe beauty. You would think it is all silk as you notice its glinting sheen—it is mohair and wool, and every dry goods will tell you that such a union makes for strength. A bright, rich Black.

BLACK CHIFFON BROADCLOTH

We don't just make the stereotyped statement that it is sponged, shrunk and spot-proof. We guarantee it. If snow or rain shrinks or spots a dress made of it we give you prompt redress. This Austrian cloth that feels like Chamol's merits strong words. Buy it and you will supply the words. 54 inches wide.

Price $2.00

VICIOUS ASSAULT

Made Upon Two Men Near Davidson Street Last Night

Joseph Korsak and Wislowsky Stanislaus, who reside in the vicinity of Davidson street, were badly beaten last night and Alexander Szimboli, a fellow countryman, is under arrest charged with having committed the crime. When the two men were beaten in court this morning their heads were done up in bandages which were saturated with blood, and the men presented a frightful appearance.

It is alleged that there has been considerable ill feeling among the Slovaks. The two complainants having testified against the defendant in an assault and battery case in which he was the defendant recently.

Yesterday Szimboli and another man were co-defendants in an assault and battery case and the former was found not guilty and discharged, while the latter was found guilty.

It is alleged that some of the beaten men had been over his head discharged and went out looking for Korsak and Stanislaus and that when he found them he hammered them on the head with a stone and then threw the stone at the other.

Dr. Talbot was called and after attending the men bandaged their heads and feet.

A case will be heard in police court Thursday morning.

Fine of $75 in Liquor Case

John J. Harley, whose residence at 7 Merrill street was visited last Sunday morning by Liquor Inspectors Thomas E. Adkinson and George B. Palmer and a quantity of beer and liquor taken, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with illegally keeping and exposing for sale intoxicating liquors.

The two inspectors and former Liquor Inspector Philip Dwyer testified as to the condition of affairs at the house and Mr. Harley testified in his own behalf, the latter being represented by Lawyer J. Joseph O'Connor. After the testimony had been offered the court found Harley guilty and imposed a fine of $75.

Liquor Inspector Adkinson testified that he visited the house occupied by Mr. Harley in Merrill street on Dec. 27, 1909. He was accompanied by Inspector Dwyer and found six cases of beer in the front room. There were two men in another room. In the ice chest in the kitchen there were fourteen bottles of ale and four empty bottles in a large case close by. In another room there were 21 empty bottles in a case. In the pantry he found two parts of whiskey in two quart bottles. There was also a quart of Sherry wine. Under the sink were six whiskey glasses which had an odor of liquor. There were also two trays on a table in the kitchen.

Inspector Adkinson testified that on the 28th of this year he visited Mr. Harley's house and found 18 full bottles of ale and six empty bottles in a case in the kitchen. In the cellar there were 24 empty ale bottles in a case.

Last Sunday witness, accompanied by Inspector Palmer, went to the residence of the Harley house between 1:30 and five o'clock in the morning and took up a position on the flat roof of a three story tenement block at the corner of Rogers and Merrill streets. They saw 27 men call between 5:10 and 5:37 in the morning.

Inspector Palmer testified that he was also present at the Harley house. He testified to the location of his house and premises said that he let one portion of the barn to some young men for a club house. He denied that the liquor found in his house was for anything other than home consumption.

The court after summing up the evidence in the case found Harley guilty and imposed a fine of $75. He appealed and was held for the superior court.

Discharged a Rifle

Theodoras Kyslazes, Nicholas Zorilex and Valilios Antikas were charged with discharging a gun in violation of a city ordinance. According to the testimony of Patrolmen Frank Donovan and Charles Hamilton the trio went to the outskirts of Pawtucketville yesterday and were enjoying themselves discharging a double barrel rifle. In court this morning the trio was found guilty and fines of $5 were imposed.

Drunken Offenders

There were three first offenders who were each fined $2.

Case Continued

The case of Lizzie Bamfield, charged with assault and battery on Len Brady, was continued till Tuesday morning.

FUNERALS

COLLINS—The funeral of the late Mrs. Isabella J. Collins took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from her home, 115 Andrews street, and was largely attended. Among those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John Howard, Mrs. Rosella Howard, Mrs. Hugh M. Smith and Mr. M. P. Coleman, of Boston, Michael P. Collins, Miss Julia N. Collins, Mrs. Daniel Barry, Mrs. George Stanley, Thomas Donahue and Denis J. Collins of Lawrence, and Dr. John T. Collins of Waltham.

The cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church, where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Lawrence Turhe, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Adolphe Muldoon sang the Gregorian mass, Mrs. Muldoon presiding at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes including a large pillow inscribed "Our Mother" from the family; large wreath inscribed "We Will Miss You" from the family; a large spray from Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Kennedy; standing crosses on base from members of Station 1, Lowell Fire Dept.; spray of 48 aster, John Shaugnessy; spray, Miss Mae Cronin; wreath, Thomas Sheridan; spray, James Norton; wreath on base, Mrs. C. E. Collins; and a large spray, Mr. M. P. Coleman of Boston. The bearers were John Howard, Thomas H. Kennedy, and William H. Thomas M. Frank D., and Joseph J. Collins, four sons of deceased. At the grave Rev. Fr. Tighe read the funeral prayers and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

BUTTRICK—The funeral of the late Mrs. Catherine T. Buttrick took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from her home, No. 125 Grove street, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Patrick's church. Rev. James Fitzgerald, was celebrant, Rev. Timothy Callahan, deacon, and Rev. Joseph Chetia, sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, sang the Gregorian mass and the solos were sustained by Miss Alice E. Murphy and Andrew McCarthy, Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. The bearers were George, William A. and Charles H. McEvoy, John H. Haggerty, Joseph Haggerty and John R. Martin. At the grave Rev. Fr. Fitzgerald read the funeral prayers and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery, in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

HURLEY—The funeral of Dennis J. Hurley took place this morning from the warehouses of Undertaker Peter H. Savage at 8:30. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Rev. John J. McFadden officiated and the choir, under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson, sang the Gregorian mass. At the conclusion of the service the choir sang "In Paradisum" and as the body was being borne from the church the choir rendered "The Preface."

Among the floral tributes were a wreath inscribed "Forever" from James P. Hurley, brother of the deceased; spray, from Philip H. Isley. The bearers were Eugene Savage, Dennis J. and John DeLongest, Daniel Donovan, Patrick Bardon, and William Hurley. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. John J. McFadden read the funeral prayers. The funeral was under the direction of Peter H. Savage.

DEATHS

GALVIN—Mrs. Mary J. Galvin, well known and highly respected member of St. Peter's parish, died this morning at her late home, 544 Lawrence street. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Wm. H., and four sons, Wm. J., Patrick A., Joseph B. and Lawrence L. Galvin.

Fall Opening Display of READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS

Radical indeed are the style changes this season. Suits are dividing popularity with the one-piece dresses to be worn with coats or long military capes. Plaited and cluster plait combinations are introduced in all garments—a sharp change from the season just past. Beautiful, delicate colors—raisin, mahogany, copper tints, all shades of green, black in self stripes, and blues, navy and peacock—offer a greater choice than ever before in fall garments.

DRESSES in the new model of clinging lines to below the hips, meeting a full plaited skirt that gives a trim, slender appearance—made in the new diagonal and wide waist worsteds. They are new enough to make a sensation—and they fit almost without alteration.

TO ABOLISH EXPENSIVE GRADUATIONS.

The school committee of Somerville has started a movement to do away with the expensive graduation exercises as they are usually carried out in most cities of the state. The purchase of graduation dresses is an unnecessary burden upon the poorer pupils, causing some of them to drop out before graduating or else to go in debt for the necessary outfit. A special committee, appointed for the purpose of investigating the matter, has reported data sufficient to justify the abolition of the graduation exercises as they have been conducted in the past. The committee has also found what will be admitted as a fact, that the last five weeks at school are mainly wasted in preparation for the public display of graduation. Better have it done quietly without any of the publicity or the dress parade usually attached to the closing exercises.

AFTER THE SMALL LOAN SHARKS.

Police Commissioner O'Meara has started a crusade against loan sharks who for some time past have been fleecing many of the poor people of Boston and indeed of many other cities. Some, of course, do business on a reasonable profit, but others, it is alleged, demand outrageous interest. There are new regulations governing the small loan business, and among other things they forbid the loaning man to assign his wages to secure a loan. Under the operation of this restriction the number of concerns in the business in Boston has been reduced from 72 to 48. Boston is not the only city affected by the loan sharks. In nearly every city in New England the same business is conducted. In some the extortions are worse than in others. The average loan shark under pretense of helping his patrons frequently takes advantage of their circumstances to extort the most unreasonable rates of interest.

SECRETARY WILSON'S ABSURD STATEMENT.

Very few will agree with Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department when he says the cause of high prices of meat is mainly due to the fact that the masses eat more meat than formerly. It is very strange that a cabinet officer should give out a statement so utterly baseless and contrary to the facts.

Our population is larger than formerly, and if Secretary Wilson had said that the meat supply is not keeping pace with the population, then he might have added figures to support his statement. But to hint that the working people are so prosperous that they are buying more meat than formerly and thereby putting up the price of meat is a gratuitous falsehood that brands the official who made it either as a superficial observer or a man who makes reckless statements for which there is no proof. The fact that the industries of the country show activity does not prove that prosperity abounds.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON'S LAST MESSAGE.

The last message of the late Governor Johnson of Minnesota was a clarion call to the democracy and patriotism of the west. It shows how broad-minded and truly American he was and how devoted to the best interests of the country. The following from his pen appeared in one of the great magazines on the day of his funeral:—

"The call of the west," he writes, "is for development. It is the call of the race to the vanguard of progress. The west knows no rest, no stopping place. . . . The call of the west is the call for liberty, equality, manhood, fair play. . . . The call of the west is the call for patriotism and progress, for emancipation from every form of old-world and new-world caste and privilege, from the tyranny of wealth and birth, and alike from the dominion of the trust and political machine; and the call of the west, if I read aright the spirit of our land, is today, as in the days of Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, the call of the American people."

This brief passage reflects the patriotism and the democracy of the man. It indicates what a loss the democratic party has sustained in the removal of one of its most brilliant leaders.

MAKE A "MEMO" OF IT.

Whenever you do anything that should be remembered, make a memo of it and write the date, not forgetting the year.

How often do we turn to past letters or even records to find the date written "Sept. 30," or something similar, without the year.

Alas! the years flee so quickly that it is but a short time until we begin to look back through the maze and ask ourselves when did this or that happen, not what day or week, but what year?

Alas! the year is the important thing when we have to look back over the waste of a quarter of a century or still worse a half a century.

Many people think they will remember just when these passing events occurred, no matter how long it may be afterwards. But in this they are greatly mistaken. The memory is like a sieve, always letting something slip through, and in the course of years it will have let a vast number of things that we cherished slip away into the region of forgetfulness.

It is then the little "memo" of important events, the day and the year, will give us a clear understanding of the chronology of our lives.

It is really remarkable how easily we forget the date of some of the more important events of our own lives. Some people occasionally start to keep a diary in which to note important events. It is an excellent idea if kept up, and if started and dropped, the fact shows that the individual has but little resolution and less tenacity of purpose. In the ordinary routine of life it is well to be mindful of things past, careful of things present and provident of things to come. If each of us noted the things accomplished at the time, it would always be interesting to look back to see the progress made through the years, or if there was no progress the blank page showing the lack of accomplishment might be an inspiration to do something worthy of record in a diary of our lives.

Cultivate then the diary habit if you will but at least make a "memo" of whatever is worthy of note in your daily life. The record will help you in the future and show either the industry or the indolence of your past years.

WE ARE PROUD OF OUR SUITS THIS SEASON FROM ROGERS, PEET & CO.

They're handsomer than ever. They represent all of the fashionable colors and they're exclusive. There is not one pattern that you can find in other clothing ready-to-wear. There's no guess work about fit, for you can see the suit on. There's no guess work about style, for this is the kind of clothing worn by New York men who dress well. There's really no earthly reason this season why a man who wants good clothing should go to a tailor, unless he wants to pay more for his clothes than he needs to. Scotch effects, chevrons and worsteds.

These Fine Suits from Rogers-Peet, $20 up to $40

HANDSOME WORSTED SUITS $15.00

These new suits are all cut on the latest models. All coats are made with hand-felled collars and with hand made buttonholes. ## YOUNG MEN'S SUITS

That are smart and gentlemanly, but that are not the vulgarities advertised as "college" clothes. There are little touches here and there in the way of cuffs, longer roll to the coat lapels, welted pockets, a bit more cloth in the trousers and brighter colors—that the middle age man doesn't want, but which young men desire. Our young men's suits are stylish and youthful, but they're not monstrosities. The materials have been carefully chosen, and the new colors for Fall are represented. The coats have hand-felled collars and French hair cloth fronts. The trousers are made with belt loops and side buckles—fancy suits and black and blue—all have these nice points of tailoring for.....$10, $12, and up to $25

SEEN AND HEARD

The fellow who deals cards or runs a crap game for a living is not content with playing much about Lowell's present administration.

Failure is the wise man's teacher.

A rule that can't be broken is a dangerous one. So is one that has to be broken.

Some things should be done just to get them off your mind.

A buggy ride into the country was not even thought of on Sunday, except by the vilest sinners in the days of the Puritan. God, didn't we glad we didn't see in those days? Echo answers—Yes.

John Jessey, an English traveler and writer who visited New England in 1658 and again in 1662, remarking there until 1671, has left behind a number of interesting notes describing life in the Puritan settlements. He wrote that "the kissing a woman in the street, though in way of civil salutation, was punished by fine or whipping."

A later writer maintained that in the New Haven colony a man who kissed his wife this own wife, not some other woman, on the Sabbath was subject to a fine of three shillings and four pence, and in default of payment should be flogged 20 times.

The maximum length of life of some of the best known animals is as follows: The horse lives to a maximum of thirty-five years, and the donkey a like period. The dog does not exceed twenty-five years; the rabbit from eight to ten; the zebra, thirty; the cock, the hen and the turkey, a dozen years.

Among the animals having the best established reputation for longevity are: The crow which lives 100 years; the parrot and the elephant, which attain an age of 150 years. Carp, on the other hand, appear to have surpassed their reputation which was based on ill-understood facts from Chantilly and Ventnorsholm. They rarely became centenarians. The tortoise appears to be the animal that lives the longest, and the record of longevity is surely held by one weighing 250 kilograms, which was presented in 1901 to the London zoological gardens by Walter De Rothschild, and which is said to have been born in 1750.

THE BELL OF THE ANGELS.

It is said somewhere at twilight A great bell softly swings, And a man may listen and hearken To the wondrous music that rings.

If he put from his heart's inner clamor, All the passion, pain, and strife, Heartsick and weary longing, That throbs in the pulses of life; He thinks from his soul all lured, All thoughts of wicked things, He can hear in the holy twilight How the bell of the angels rings.

MY LADY MOON

She slowly down the western sky You call, my Lady Moon, The dark clouds that after day We scarce hide you soon.

I'd like to see the skies with you, And run the clouds along the line, Please come in your gold canoe— My pretty Lady Moon!

Around the world and home with you, My pretty Lady Moon, I'd rather travel in your boat Than in a silk balloon.

We'll look down on the rivers deep, The lonely towns, the muddled sheep, The woods where birds are fast asleep, My pretty Lady Moon!

My pretty Lady Moon!

Oh, let me sail the skies with you When you're "The Harvest Moon!" We'll choose a night when clouds are few.

And West Wind sings a tune; When orchards shine with apples bright, And reapers sing in waning light, And you shine for their dance all night—

SHIP SUBSIDY LAW

President Taft Will Urge Congress to Pass Measure

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 1.—Speaking before the largest audience he has ever addressed since his trip began—a crowd that overflowed the natural amphitheatre of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition with its seating capacity of nearly 20,000—President Taft announced yesterday that he would urge in his coming message to congress the enactment of a ship subsidy law.

Mr. Taft declared that the country was ready to make such experiment and that something might be done to build up an American merchant marine. His utterances on this subject were received with great applause.

When the president turned to Alaska, however, and declared that he was Alaska, the president announced that he intended to visit Alaska next summer and to go as far into the territory as time would permit so that he might come into contact with the people and see for himself what may best be done for their welfare.

The president frankly told the members of the exposition that he did not believe that Alaska is ready for entire self government.

"I am as much in favor of popular government as anybody," declared the president, "but I am in favor of popular government only when the conditions exist which make popular government a success and work for the benefit of the people and the government at large. When there are limitations growing out of various circumstances we must take other means until popular government becomes possible and then, of course, it is the best government in the world."

In discussing ship subsidy President Taft declared that if a war should come at this time the United States would not have enough vessels to carry coal to its fleet. And it would be doubtful under the neutrality law, he added, if the United States would be able to buy foreign vessels in emergency.

The president had an interesting and busy day which ended last night with a banquet in the Washington building at the exposition grounds.

On ship subsidy, the president said: "The Panama canal will be completed on or before the first of January, 1914, and with its completion the trade between the eastern and western coasts of this country will be revolutionized. For the carriage of heavy bulk merchandise between the Pacific and the Atlantic coast is almost certain to be by water. This will reduce the trans-continental business to the earnings of many valuable classes of merchandise which can profitably pay a higher rate of transportation. More than this, it will change the avenues of international trade, will bring the eastern coast of America more closely in touch with the western coast of America to European ports."

"China is making a period of development that cannot but increase her trade and augment her independence as a customer and as a trader with this country, while Japan and all the other Oriental countries are moving onward with giant steps in the commercial competition of the world."

"The many prophecies that have been made that in the next half century the commercial progress of the world is to be seen more decidedly in the Pacific than anywhere else, are certainly well founded and under these conditions it behooves us Americans interested in pushing our trade into every quarter of the globe, to take steps to repair a condition that exists in reference to our merchant marine that is humiliating to our national pride and most burdensome to us in competition with other nations in obtaining international trade."

"We maintain a protective tariff to encourage our manufacturing, mining and other industries at home within our jurisdiction but when we assume to enter into competition upon the high seas in trade between international ports, our jurisdiction to control that trade as far as the vessels of other nations are concerned of course ceases and the question we have to meet is how with the greater wages that we pay, with the more stringent laws that we enact for the protection of our sailors and with the protective system making a difference in the price between the necessities to be used in the maintenance of a merchant marine, we shall enable that merchant marine to compete with the merchant marine of the rest of the world."

ther, for it will be found on examination of the methods pursued in old countries with respect to their merchant marine that there is now extended by way of subsidies by the various governments to their respective ships upwards of thirty-five million dollars and this offers another means by which in the competition the American merchant ship is driven out of business, finds itself utterly unable to bid against its foreign competitors."

"Not only this but so inadequate is the American merchant marine today that in selecting auxiliary ships with which to make our navy an instrument of offense or defense or indeed in sending it around the world as a fleet, we have to call on vessels sailing under a foreign flag to carry the coal and to supply the other needs of such a journey. Were we compelled to go to war today our merchant marine lacks altogether a sufficient tonnage of auxiliary unarmed ships absolutely necessary to the proper operation of the navy and were we to come on we should have to purchase such vessels from foreign countries and this might under the laws governing neutrals be almost difficult."

"The trade between the eastern ports of the United States and South America is a most valuable trade and now equals something like $150,000,000, but European nations, appreciating the growing character of this trade have by subsidies and other means of encouragement so increased the sailings of large and well equipped vessels from Europe to the ports of South America as visibly to affect the portion of trade which is coming to the United States by the very limited service of a direct character between New York and southern ports."

"I need not tell you of the inadequacy of the American shipping marine on the Pacific coast and the growing power for commercial power in this regard of the empire of Japan. Japan is one of the most active and generous countries in the matter of subsidies to its merchant marine that we have and the effect is only too visible in an examination of the statistics."

"For this reason, it seems to me that there is no subject to which congress can better devote its attention in the coming session than the passage of a bill which shall encourage our merchant marine in such a way as to establish American lines directly between New York and other eastern ports and South American ports and between our Pacific coast ports and the Orient and Philippines."

"We earn a profit from our foreign mails from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 a year. The application of that amount would be quite sufficient to put on a satisfactory basis two or three Oriental lines and several lines from the East to South America. Of course we are familiar with the argument that this would be contributing to private companies out of the treasury fund of the United States, but we are thus contributing in various ways on similar principles in effect by our protective tariff law, by our river and harbor bills and by our reclamation section. We are not putting money in the pockets of the ship owners, but

GREAT BOOK CONTEST

RE-ARRANGE THE BOOKS TO FORM NAME OF FAMOUS PIANO
SEE DIRECTIONS BELOW

Arrange the Books on line 1-2 above to form piano name. The word piano is formed also by the books.

$365 Piano Absolutely FREE

FIRST PRIZE

OVER $13,500 WORTH OF ADDITIONAL PRIZES

NO CHARGE OF ANY KIND TO ENTER. YOU HAVE THE SAME OPPORTUNITY AS ANYONE ELSE TO WIN.

We have never known a more interesting contest or one which offered such valuable prizes absolutely free. This combines the fascination of the out-of-puzzle and the skill of arranging the books so as to form the name of a famous piano. This grand free distribution of over $13,500 worth of prizes is of vital interest to any home without a piano. Be sure to try.

Cut out the books and paste them standing up on line 1-2 so as to form a famous piano name, a familiar name to all, one of the oldest and best known in the musical world. The word piano is also formed by the books and is to be put after the name, thus—PIANO. The next correct answer prize certificates are stated below.

Everyone has an equal opportunity. You may get the piano or a high certificate, as well as any prize. This contest was especially prepared for pianoless homes, and it will be the means of our distributing hundreds of pianos. We are placing this large advertising sum ($13,500) directly among piano buyers, where it will do the most good. Instead of spending it in expensive magazine advertising, we sent piano buyers to earn the piano or the prize certificate by their skill. There is no catch or chance. Read the simple condition. Send your answer in early. Start on it tonight.

THE PRIZES First prize—A fine new piano valued at $365. Second prize—A certificate of credit for $125. Third prize—A certificate of credit for $110. The next six best answers will be given a credit certificate for $50. Following these in groups of six or more, each contestant sending in the next best answer will be given a credit certificate of $1 less than those previous—that is, six at $49, next six at $48, and so on, until the amount has been awarded.

Special advertising appropriation—In addition to the above prizes, the company will voluntarily issue to each of the remaining contestants a special certificate of credit, of not less than $25, as an award for their effort in this contest.

These certificates are good on the purchase of any new Hallet & Davis, Conover or Kimball piano or Player piano in our warehouses at regular retail prices. Time of certificate is limited. Certificates cannot be applied on any purchase made previous to October 7, 1909. Only one certificate may be applied on the purchase of one piano.

In case the judges had two or more answers of equal merit, duplicates of the prize offered will be given to each. All answers must be in before 2 p.m. October 7, 1909. Copies of this advertisement will be furnished free in application at this office.

SIMPLE DIRECTIONS Carefully cut out the various sized books now on the shelf above the book rack, then arrange and paste them standing up in the book rack so that the letters will form the name of a famous piano, one of the oldest and best known in the musical world. The word piano is also formed by the books and is to be put after the name, thus—PIANO. The books without letters are for spaces to be put between the words. Paste books on line 1-2, and send in the whole book rack. Free to anyone except employees of Hallet & Davis Piano Co. Only one answer allowed from one family. Send in coupon or exact written copy with your answer as no answer will be accepted unless this is done. The nearest correct answer will be awarded first prize; others in accordance to their worth.

Duplicates of the prize offered will be given to each. All answers must be in before 2 p.m. October 7, 1909. Copies of this advertisement will be furnished free in application at this office.

"From my observations, I think the country is ready now to try such a law and to witness its effects upon the foreign trade of the United States. If it is successful, experience will show how the policy can best be expanded and enlarged and the American commercial flag be made to wave on the seas as it did before our Civil war. It is true, that our foreign trade is great and increasing without the merchant marine. But a merchant marine would much enhance the opportunities for extending trade."

"JIM" JEFFRIES

Thinks Fight Purse Should be $150,000

PARIS, Oct. 1.—James J. Jeffries, the American heavyweight who has been training here for his proposed fight with Jack Johnson, said yesterday that he had almost completely recovered from the cold which he contracted several days ago while attending the races. He will leave here for London on Tuesday next and will take the steamer for the United States on Oct. 18.

Jeffries expresses himself as disappointed at the offer of $55,000 for a fight, saying: "I am the champion of the world. I have everything to lose and nothing to gain. Therefore, I don't want to fight for a purse of less than $150,000. I should prefer to fight in America, rather than in Australia, and have reason to believe that the governors of several states would be willing to allow a fight to take place." Continuing, the big heavyweight said he considered himself in splendid physical condition, and that the only thing he feared was a man with a powerful left.

CITY COUNCIL

Took Action on Death of Ald. Turner

Special meetings of both branches of the city council were called last night, and both branches met in joint convention to take action upon the death of the late Alderman John D. Turner. The joint convention was held in the council chamber. Mayor president and the following committees were appointed:

The committee on funeral consisted of the mayor, members of the board of aldermen and President Stanley E. Quis and Councilmen McKenzie, Welch, Kilpatrick, Achin and Tracy.

A joint order to appoint two aldermen and three councilmen to the committee on resolutions was adopted. Those appointed were: Aldermen Adams and Badger and Councilmen Flanagan, Butler and Viscant. Aldermen Connors and Councilman Kilpatrick spoke briefly in appreciation of Mr. Turner.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME COMMITTEE DISCUSSES MANY MATTERS

The breakfast committee of St. Peter's Holy Name society met last evening and discussed at length plans for the event on Oct. 14th, St. Michael's Day. Daily president and reports were heard from various sub-committees, showing that a larger crowd is anticipated at the coming convention than at previous years. The members are finishing the details for the breakfast of the society. Remarks were made by Daniel F. Reilly, Michael J. McLaughlin, James Cook, Michael McLaughlin, Vice Pres. Richard Lewis and Pres. Daly. All the speakers referred to the bright future for the Holy Name society and predicted a most successful fall and winter season. Mr. Cook of the literary committee was particularly enthusiastic over the prospects for an enjoyable season, and said his committee has several plans under consideration for bringing before the membership several well known speakers.

JUSTICE GAYNOR

Nominated for Mayor by Democrats

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Justice Gaynor was nominated for mayor by the democratic city convention last night. The nomination was made amid great enthusiasm and by an unanimous vote.

Tammany had its own way at the convention, which initiates the democratic campaign for control of the city government for the next four years. Of the 1679 delegates represented, Tammany had control to all intents and purposes of almost the entire representation of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, mastering 913 votes.

The Tammany cohorts were so strong that they overrode with the greatest ease the opposition headed by State Senator Patrick H. McCarron of Brooklyn who hoped for the renomination of Comptroller Metz of that borough. The convention nominated for this office Robert H. Moore, president of the Commercial Trust company, the Tammany selection.

In the majority fight, Justice Gaynor's chief opponent will be Otto T. Bumard, president of the New York Trust company, who was nominated by the republicans a few days ago, and who has some assurances of support from the Fusionists. There yet remains the possibility that the independent league will make the contest a triangular one by naming a separate ticket.

The platform adopted by the democratic convention dealt broadly with national, state and municipal questions, denouncing the recent tariff legislation and the more rigid enforcement of local affairs by the state legislature.

Regarding city affairs, the platform advocates municipal ownership, the building of additional subways by the city, retrenchment in expenses, the three platform system for the police, and the more rigid enforcement of the eight hour day for city and public service employees.

There was no mention or even indirect reference in the platform to the retiring administration of Mayor McClellan, who led the party to victory four years ago. This rather astonishing omission called forth considerable comment by many of the delegates. A resolution on the death of Governor Johnson of Minnesota, extending sympathy to the family, was carried by a rising vote.

Aside from the majority canvass, chief interest in the fall campaign will center in the contest for district attorney. This office, however, is a county office, and the democratic candidate will be nominated at a separate convention later. District Attorney Jerome's attack received scornful but brief mention from several of the speakers tonight.

Justice Gaynor, the mayorality candidate, is a native of Oneida county, New York, and is 58 years old. He became nationally known nearly twenty years ago for his work in breaking up rings within the democratic party, and for his action in securing the conviction of John Y. McKane, a Brooklyn boss, for election frauds. He was prominently mentioned for the second place on the national democratic ticket at Denver last year.

The ticket named is: For mayor—Justice William J. Gaynor, Brooklyn.

For comptroller—Robert M. Moore, Manhattan.

For president of the board of aldermen—John Galvin, Manhattan.

Money deposited in the Lowell Five Cent Savings bank on or before Saturday, October 2, 1909, begins to draw interest from that date.

ARE YOU, GOOD WOMAN, AT YOUR BEST?

Many beautiful women find themselves losing good looks and health—slowly fading from a cause unknown to them. She has no appetite, and the food she does eat seems to do her no good. Why? If you should ask her what the trouble is, she would say, "I am just tired out." But the real cause is constipation and its resulting condition—bad blood. Just think what habitual neglect of the bowels means—sickness instead of good health; nervousness instead of vigor; cheerfulness replaced by depression, happiness by misery. A week's use of Smith's Pinapple and Butternut Pills will work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the liver and the bowels, immediately unload the congestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities. These little pills will soon make you feel and look at your best. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. These little Vegetable Pills will ward off many ills.

OPENING GAME

Lowell High to Meet Wellington

Tomorrow will see the opening of the local football season at Spaulding park, when Lowell High will have as its opponent the team from Wellington Academy.

This week's work on the field has put the finishing touches on Captain Rooney's men, and barring accidents, the game should go easily to the local boys. The final practice this afternoon finds every one of the large squad which has been practicing for three weeks, in togs, and taken as a whole there is much heavier and better material than was looked for when school opened.

The line will be heavier than ever before, and although nearly all of the linemen are green, the presence of what few veterans there are ought to weld them into a fairly stiff combination. The line has been built around Captain Rooney, who will play his old position at center, and the other veterans in the line are Bartlett, back, and Flinders, guard. Flinders is not only heavier than last year, weighing over 200 pounds, but he is much faster, and is capable of doing much better work than ever before.

If there is any department on the team that Coach Mahoney feels particularly sure of, it is the back line, and the three men who will carry the ball this year are as fast a set of backs, taken as a combination, as there is in the state. All are veterans, and each was a star in last year's games.

Canney will play full-back, as usual, and Connell and Joe Gargan are to take care of the other back line positions. Gargan is doing some great work in scrimmages, and is in the best form of the three.

Leggett will probably play quarterback in tomorrow's game. Lavigne has missed several practices, but will also probably have the chance of guiding the destinies of the team. Both are clever generals, and both showed what they could do last year.

Coach Mahoney has been absent in New York all this week, and the work has gone along much slower than it should on this account. He arrives here today, however, and will be present at this afternoon's scrimmage. Mr. Mahoney has had the honor of turning out some of the best teams the school ever had, and this year's should prove no exception to the rule.

In tomorrow's game, probably every member of the squad will be given a tryout, and the coaches will watch carefully how each man conducts himself in a real contest. This system will be followed out in the first few games, and the final varsity team will not be picked until the objective point of the season, namely, the games against Lawrence and Waltham, is reached.

The probable lineup for the game against Wellington is as follows: Cawley or Dow, left halfback; Spaulding or Taylor, left halfback; (Capt.) C. Flinders, right halfback; Ryan, right halfback; Cawley, center; Leggett, quarterback; Gargan, fullback; Canney, fullback; Connell, fullback.

WHITE IS BLAMED

Judge Utley's Finding on Boy's Death

WORCESTER, Oct. 1.—Judge Samuel Utley of the Central district court handed down yesterday his decision in the inquest on the death of Joseph E. Bourgeois, aged 7, who was run down and killed on Shrewsbury street, Sept. 18, by an auto operated by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline. In his report, Judge Utley says:

"Shrewsbury street is the principal thoroughfare easterly from the city of Worcester, with several short streets very near together entering it from the south, thus bringing it within the legal rate of eight miles per hour as the legal speed for automobiles. Anything beyond that is presumed to be excessive, and surely the result cannot be said to rebut this presumption.

"On the evidence, I find that White was proceeding about 25 miles an hour. The place was one where people had a right to be and were likely to be. While proceeding about three times the legal rate, knew that people were likely to appear and knowing that whoever appeared would probably have been killed.

"The legislature has established a legal rate of speed, fixed as being necessary to public safety, and a higher rate is unlawful, this unlawful rate not simply in a statute phrase 'contributed to the death' it caused the death. It was not a condition. It was the cause.

"It was White's duty to comply with the statutes. It was his duty to exercise such care as the circumstances demanded. He did neither. The result was death. By the statute, as well as by the common law, he is guilty of manslaughter."

HARRY WHITNEY

Repeats that Cook and Peary Reached Pole

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 1.—Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman, who has become one of the central figures in the Peary-Cook polar controversy, passed through this city today on his way from Sydney, N. S. W., for his Connecticut home. Mr. Whitney talked briefly with the newspaper reporters during the few minutes that he remained in St. John, but added nothing that threw any light on the famous controversy, referring his questioners to the statement sent out by him from New Foundland to the Associated Press.

He reaffirmed his belief that both Cook and Peary reached the pole, but declined to say whether he would send a vessel to Etah, Greenland, next year, to bring back the things that Dr. Cook had given him for transportation to New York and which he was not allowed to bring on Commander Peary's ship, the Roosevelt.

Mr. Whitney has lost nearly forty pounds in weight during his stay in the Arctic region.

THE TAFT FAMILY

Will Enter a Renovated White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The White House homecoming for all but President Taft will be about the middle of October. Mrs. Taft will not remain at Beverly after the 15th and, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Louis Moore of Cincinnati, she will return to Washington more than three weeks before the arrival of the president, who will return from his western and southern trip on Nov. 12.

This dispels the report that President Taft would go to Beverly at the conclusion of his trip. It was announced at the White House today that Mrs. Taft has much improved in health, and that there will be no difficulty in her traveling.

There will be no children at the White House next winter. Miss Helen Taft has returned to Bryn Mawr, Robert has gone back to Yale for his last year, and Charles Taft, who has given up the public schools, has been entered in the Harvard Taft school at Waterville, Me.

The president's family will be welcomed after a week and a half. White House. The entire building has been decorated with green, the furniture repaired, and old pictures replaced with new, and carpets and draperies are being laid.

The office building, which will contain a magnificent large room for the president and a new and larger cabinet room, is nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1, and a Secretary-Captain will move his office there from the present temporary quarters in the basement of the White House proper.

The old office furniture, used by President Roosevelt, will be taken into the new office building. There will be no lavish expenditures for furniture, as the White House as well as the executive departments, is an economic basis.

BRYAN DECLINES

To Debate With Senator Bailey

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 1.—In explanation of his position on the proposed debate with Senator Bailey of Texas, at Clanton, W. J. Bryan addressed a letter today to Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution. The letter follows:

"I would you last night that I would communicate with you by letter my reasons for believing debate inadvisable. When a joint meeting was suggested at El Paso, Tex., I replied to the effect that I am trying to aid in the election of a democratic majority in the next congress, that to that end I have suggested a brief but specific tariff plan, which I ask democratic candidates to accept, reject or amend, and that, believing a debate would tend to turn attention from the issue to individuals I could not consider the proposition unless it came as a personal request.

"I might add the further reason that a debate between two democrats would accentuate the tariff differences that have embarrassed our party in congress, and give the republican newspapers a chance to dwell upon democratic dissensions instead of devoting their time to the contest now being waged between the progressive republicans and the stand-patters.

"A debate might be pleasing to the participants and entertaining to the audience, but I think the subject which I am endeavoring to present is worthy of calm and serious consideration.

"Very truly yours,
"W. J. Bryan"

DUKE TRIMBLE
Well Known Football Player May Die

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 1.—"One chance in fifty to live" was the verdict privately to President Bryan and Head Coach Sheldon by an Indianapolis specialist in blood diseases after he had examined Duke Trimble, the Indiana football tackle, who is at the city hospital, with acute blood poisoning coming from an infection caused by a blister on his heel.

The blood poisoning was not caused by injury received while at practice, but by a blister rubbed by a new shoe. He opened the blister with a pen-knife and blood poisoning followed. He has been off the squad since Saturday and up at his rooming house and it was not until yesterday his condition was learned by Coach Sheldon.

AL. MCGOVERN

POPULAR ACTOR IS WITH "THE TRAVELING SALESMAN"

The many friends of Al. McGovern, Lowell's favorite actor, will be pleased to know that he is in the cast of "The Traveling Salesman," which opens its engagement at the Opera House this evening. Mr. McGovern arrived in town this morning and spent the afternoon renewing old acquaintances.

He is the picture of health and has met with great success since leaving Lowell.

GLAD TO GET OFF WITH $500 FINE

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—"I'm only glad that they let me off without imprisonment." This was the only statement President Charles W. ## BIG NAVAL PARADE

Feature of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—History in the making threatened to eclipse the history of the printed page today as the principal attraction of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. With Commander Peary aboard and every other member of the crew that accompanied him on his quest of the North pole the steamer Roosevelt joined the naval parade up the lower Hudson to meet the Half Moon and Clermont at Newburg and the

OH, MY! YES

We have another batch of "Fresh from the Oven" Coconut Cakes, in fact, we have a new batch every Friday, 7c a dozen, 50c a box of 100. Our line of package chocolates is unsurpassed in variety and quality, comprising such favorably known brands as Belle Mead Sweets, Samson, La Reine, Lowmyer's, Schrafft's, Russell's, Varsity, Quality and Apollo. Howard, the Druggist, 197 Central street.

This naval parade was the feature of the celebration today as far as Manhattan was concerned. In Brooklyn the historical pageant of last Tuesday was repeated and there was everywhere the usual expectation of aeroplane flights but the great majority of sightseers flocked to the banks of the Hudson. There they saw in addition to Peary's vessel a great fleet of excursion steamers and other craft which rendezvoused between Fort Lee and Spuyten Duyvel about ten o'clock fell into line for the fifty mile journey to Newburg. With the historic Half Moon and Clermont already up the river the chief figure in the gathering of craft in the lower river was the Roosevelt. Her progress from quarantine early in the day to her dock at the foot of West 42d street was marked by a continuous blast of whistles and when she came off Riverside drive and started on her way up the river the salute was taken up by thousands of cheering voices.

The nucleus of the lower Hudson fleet that started this morning was a squadron of one small United States cruiser, twelve torpedo boats and four submarines. These with the Castine, the parent boat of the submarine squadron, and four other submarines which are acting as escort to the Half Moon and the Clermont, make 22 warships representing Uncle Sam in today's demonstration. The other members of the American war fleet and the visiting foreign men-of-war remained at their anchorages in the Hudson where they have rested since they assembled last Saturday.

The Half Moon and the Clermont spent the night at Ossining and had a short time this morning to reach Newburg. Their first stop was at Peekskill, where they were the central figures in a local celebration.

After the arrival of the fleet at Newburg there was a street parade of 3000 men in which the sailors and marines from the warships joined. The parade will afterward be guests at a big "shore dinner." The New York division of the river parade will return tonight, while the up-river squadrons will escort the Half Moon and the Clermont as far north as Troy, stopping to lend them to several local celebrations on the way up.

At Cornwall, just below Newburg, on the west side of the river, the Half Moon and the Clermont were received by "Indians" who put out in canoes to meet them as if they were men they rescued did when Hudson's craft first appeared there 300 years ago.

Tonight the sailors and marines of all the warships in the harbor will attend a reception at a Harlem open-air park given by the Seamen Gunners League of the United States.

The crowds of visitors which reached their maximum here yesterday began to diminish today. A majority of the celebration guests, however, came to see the week through and thousands are kept here by the hope of seeing an aeroplane flight up the North river. Their arrangement with the celebration committee gives Wright and Curtiss until Oct. 4 to make a successful flight. Because Curtiss is expected to leave on Saturday night to keep an engagement at St. Louis it is believed that he will make another flight as soon as the weather allows.

Both aviators said this morning that the prospects of an exhibition today were far from promising.

Newburg, which in revolutionary days was the headquarters of Gen. Washington, today welcomed the Half Moon and the Clermont and witnessed their formal transfer from the lower Hudson commission to the upper Hudson commission, which will pilot them through another week of the Hudson-Fulton celebration in the cities lying to the north. Accompanied by an imposing array of naval and river craft the little vessels which began the day's festivities at Peekskill ploughed their way through the quiet waters of the Hudson and anchored in the bay, while Gov. Hughes, the members of the Hudson-Fulton commission from up and down the river, members of the legislature, the foreign and other guests, were welcomed by Mayor Benjamin McHugh as they came ashore. Down at Cornwall, four miles below Newburg, the Half Moon and the Clermont had anchored to await the coming of the naval parade from New York earlier in the day. Members of the Waor-neck tribe of Red Men, gay with paint and feathers, arrived on the shore, sent out a welcoming detachment in canoes to greet the Half Moon, while guns boomed out a welcome from Palmer's park.

In Newburg the fleet was received with a military salute, fired from Washington's headquarters overlooking the river. While the brief formal ceremonies attending the transfer of the Half Moon and the Clermont to the upper Hudson commission were taking place the sailors and marines from the American and foreign fleets were landing further down the river, preparatory to taking part in the military parade which was one of the chief features of the day ashore.

Gov. Hughes was the guest of former

Gov. Benjamin Odell during his stay in the city.

Newburg has been celebrating Old Home Week since Saturday, and the city is ablaze of color. The military parade which Gov. Hughes reviewed from a grandstand at the court house was made up of two divisions, naval and military. Detachments of sailors and marines from the warships and revenue cutters, including those from foreign shores and naval establishments composed the first division, while the second was made up largely of state organizations. The commission's plans originally provided for a river parade from Albany today to meet the fleet from New York, but that portion of the program was abandoned.

The vessels in the river parade left New York at various times, depending upon their speed. The Castine, in charge of Commander Kline and the submarine squadron, the Torpedos, Cutters, Viper and Phoenix, passed up the river last night and met the Half Moon and the Clermont this morning. Torpedo boats that joined the procession today were the Worcester, Blakely, Shubrick, Springman, Porter, Dupont and Biddle. The scout cruisers Birmingham and Salem, the gunboats Albatross and Wasp which were detailed to the New York naval militia went up stream last night. The revenue cutters in the parade were the Andromeda, Fishhawk, Mohawk, Seneca and Harriet.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—A joy ride and the careless use of a lighted match resulted last night in a gasoline explosion which partially destroyed the big touring car of Neil McNeal, a well known Dorchester contractor and also brought out the Jamaica Plain fire apparatus to extinguish a fire in the vesting booth at the junction of Longview and Devon streets, caused by the burning oil. Henry Bacon, the chauffeur of the car, and two of his friends, Walter Cahill and Joseph Conboy, both of Jamaica Plain, who were with him at the time, were locked up at station 13 charged with drunkenness. A fourth man escaped and is sought by the police.

SEN. CONVENTION

At Republican Headquarters Tomorrow

The republican state convention will be held tomorrow at Boston, and Lowell, as usual, will be well represented, though quite a few well known republicans will remain at home to attend the seventh senatorial convention which will be held at republican headquarters at 2 o'clock when A. G. Walsh, the so-called "cave district" senator of this city, ex-Rep. Bennett of Sandwich, today, Rep. Pattison was expected.

gus and Senator Grimes of Wilmington will fight it out for the nomination, with the result in doubt at this writing.

The 19th district republican representative convention will be held in this city on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The date for the 14th district convention has not yet been set. The eighth district democratic senatorial convention will be held in democratic headquarters, Central street, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, but the other dates have not yet been set by the democrats.

PATTISON NOMINATED

Three Crack-a-jack Values

It stands to reason that the man who manufactures an article can sell it directly to the consumer for less money than the dealer who has to buy from the maker, pay him a profit and then add a profit for himself.

King manufactures every garment they offer and sells directly to you, which saves you the middleman's profit. All other stores are dealers who buy their clothing from manufacturers, paying them enormous prices for their goods, because the magazine and other advertising they do must be settled for, all of which in the end You pay for.

REMEMBER, Mr. Man, you pay for all this expensive advertising, for it is added to the dealer's cost; then the dealer adds his profit.

HERE ARE FACTS THAT ADMIT OF NO DISPUTE:

Our Suits of All Worsteds at..... $9.95
Will cost you elsewhere $15.00.

Our Suits of All Worsteds at..... $11.95
Will cost you elsewhere $18.00.

Our Suits of All Worsteds at..... $14.95
Will cost you elsewhere $22.50.

These are the three crack-a-jack values we call your attention to. The difference is the saving to you of what the dealer has to add for his profit and the extra cost to him from the manufacturer who makes every dealer pay for the advertising he does for them.

If there is any doubt in your mind where you can get the most value in clothing for your money, come to this store and let's show you the new Fall styles.

Man Found Dead by His Wife

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 1.—Francis J. Rice, aged 19, of Elmwood avenue, was found dead in his room by his wife yesterday afternoon, he having committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. A partially filled vial of the poison was found beside his body. He had partially unressed across his bed with no sign of life. He had been dependent on the drug three months ago. He tried to take poison in a bathroom, but the wife was known to him as having.

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months had Fearful Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her neck, cheeks, I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ringworm. He prescribed an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the eruption, the ointment seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor who after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which did not help either. The disease in the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. The cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to see. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief.

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent at once for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red and you can imagine how surprised I was. I cannot find words enough to praise Cuticura and I do not know what would have become of my baby only for it. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and quite well. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and I never use any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for doing so. I will send you one of her pictures which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. L. Gumbin, Sheldon, Ia., July 13, 1905."

Cuticura Soap (25c), Ointment (50c), Resolvent (50c), and Chocolate Castile Pills (25c), are sold throughout the world by the Cuticura Remedies Co., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston. 65-Mailed Free, Cuticura Book on Skin Diseases.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Captain Thomas S. Baldwin and George L. Tomlinson both failed in their first attempt to fly from New York to Albany for the New York World's $10,000 prize. The dirigible balloon, made by Baldwin, started from Riverside drive near Grants tomb, Baldwin, snatching the course out over the Hudson river, where the mighty foot of Battleship bay, while Tomlinson took the short-cut route over Harlem and the Bronx. These photographs were taken when Tomlinson's ship was over St. John's cathedral and Baldwin was near Grants tomb. After ten minutes' sail Baldwin's machinery cut out of gear, and he alighted on the surface of the river. The ship was slightly damaged. Tomlinson sailed to White Plains, where he was forced to land because of a leak in his oil tank. Both at once prepared for a second trial.

DIED SUDDENLY

Agent Ingram of Washington Mills

LAWRENCE, Oct. 1.—James Ingram, one of the best-known men in this city, died suddenly yesterday, following an operation. He had been agent of the Washington Mills plant of the American Woolen company in this city since 1899.

He was born in Wiltshire, Eng., in 1852, and got little schooling there, but he came to New York and secured employment as a weaver, later as a loom fixer in Providence, remaining 10 or 12 years. He came to the New Washington Mills in 1896 as an overseer of weaving, seeing it grow from 20 looms to 1500 in 1899.

In 1894 he was made superintendent of the cloth manufacturing department, and in 1899 he succeeded E. J. Chapin as agent. He was also, in 1900, made agent of the Riverside mill of Providence. He was a 32d degree Mason. He was married and had three adult sons.

CLIFTON CLUB

MEMBERS WERE GUESTS OF MISS DONOGHUE

The members of the Clifton Club met last night at the home of Miss Elizabeth M. Donoghue, 14 Hazlet street, and had a most enjoyable time. What was enjoyed most was the excellent musical program. The program consisted of 100 songs in the Clifton Club, and is a well-organized and highly trained club. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Madeline Marley of Third avenue.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY

Says in the January 21st issue:

"There was a time, not long ago when shares in the Mergenthaler Linotype Company could be bought for ten dollars each. That was when the company was getting started. The beginning was small, but there was an unlimited opportunity. Now the stock of the Linotype is held in every printing establishment of any consequence in the country, and the stock is worth $195 a share. Early investors, who were intelligent and foresight, have made a profit of 2000 per cent."

"I could give you many other instances like these which show how those who had the opportunity, and who had the wisdom to accept it when it came to them, have made splendid profits on small sums invested."

"There is only one way to make extraordinary profits on a small investment—to make a fortune by a share, financial stroke—and that is to obtain an interest in a company which has a solid foundation and the opportunity of expanding its business to immense proportions. But you must secure your interest at the very start. If you wait until the company is paying enormous earnings, you will find the stock out of your reach."

"Such chances for fortune making are never seen again. They are quickly taken up by those who are keen enough to appreciate them."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Rosalind Coghlan, who will appear in "The Traveling Salesman," which comes to the Opera house, tonight for three performances, is said to be one of the most talented actresses in the United States, and possesses a 19-foot cat-bow that was unbeaten last year in all the races held by the Atlantic Yacht Club for craft of that class. Miss Coghlan is the daughter of the famous and distinguished actress Rose Coghlan, who is one of the most interesting personages on the American stage and earned a high reputation in England, her native land, principally through the interpretation of high comedy parts. Several years before she was seen in this country, she was a young girl when she made her first appearance on the stage. Her part was one of the whimsical in "Macbeth" and according to her own story, she was so frightened when her turn came to speak that she forgot her lines and ran off the stage. Miss Coghlan's next engagement was with Theodore, in whose company she stayed in London. She then appeared at Walton's theatre. After completing a tour with Southern she returned to London and then went back to London. Within a few months she had made an engagement with Mr. A. M.
Pitts for a season at the Theatre
Royal. She played Viola in "Twelfth Night" for 200 runs, this extraordinary achievement being secured by the fine presentation of the comedy in every particular—excellent acting and compelling music, with the special attraction of incidental music written for the play by Arthur Sullivan.
Miss Coghlan was next engaged by Mr. Harry Sullivan, under whom she played leading parts, principally the comedies of the English classic drama. Then going to the St. James theatre, London, she appeared as Lady Macbeth in the first to play the part in "Macbeth" by Mr. Henry Neville, author of "Target-Mc-Neill."

Mr. Lester Wallack, who had had great difficulty to measure her attainments, while she was playing in his theatre a few years before, now sent her to come over as leading lady of the company. She averaged 100 per cent.

"THE GAY HUSSARS"
Miss Muriel Terry who will be seen here as "Moran" in "The Gay Hussars" is a singer of great promise.
Among the grand opera roles which Miss Terry sang at Maudslayi and during engagements in Innsbruck and Augsburg, were Hansel, in "Hansel and Gretel," Nicklaus, in "The Tales of Hoffmann," Amneris, in "Aida," and the Prince in "Pindermaur."
Usually singers progress from light to grand opera, but Miss Terry reversed this rule, as her appearance had been confined to grand opera until she was engaged for the role of Cadet Volunteer Moran in "The Gay Hussars," by Mr. Savage, who heard her sing "Carmen" in Maudslayi.
Miss Terry explains her reversal of the usual artistic procedure by the fact that she is rather shy, and instead of being a larger woman for the heavy roles in grand opera, she remains one grand opera ambition to sing in "Samson," the role of Delilah, which she was studying when Mr.
Savage engaged her for "The Gay Hussars." She is the first woman in several years to wear a success playing a boy's character in opera.

"UNCLE DAVE HOLCOMB"
Mr. William Lawrence in "Uncle Dave Holcomb," a story of New England life, will be seen for two nights commencing Tuesday, Oct. 5, at the opera house. An elaborate production will be carried.

"A BROKEN IDOL"
In the two acts of the musical comedy "A Broken Idol," to be seen at the opera house for a return engagement, commencing Tuesday, Oct. 5, at the opera house, there are fifteen musical numbers. Among the most popular of these refrains are "The China
Bell," "Love Makes the World Go Round," "Happy Days," "Springtime," and "Bama."

Ground," a one act play by Edmund Lay, is worthy of the highest place on the bill. Lottie Williams appears in it as the unfortunate girl who fell in love with a magazine illustrator and who misinterpreted kindly words as words of love. It is a well written, well acted sketch.

"The Piano Four" will compare favorably with any musical concoction seen here this year. Three women and a man play the two pianos, sing and dance. Their work is clean cut and attractive. Clerk Sale impersonates eight characters at a country school graduation, and scores strongly with each one. The other acts on this well balanced program are: J. T. Ray and Fred Nice, in grotesque dancing and song; Rosalie and Dorette, in a very funny acrobatic act; Fred and Will, in a musical act, and Will and Fred, in a musical act. The modern pictures are new.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A good clean moral show within the price of all and a big attraction for the money is what the management of the Academy of Music offers the public at its theatre. The vaudeville is headed by those clever artists, Paul and Reynolds, in a comedy sketch, "A Musical Visitor." Emmett and McNeill, the busy girls keep to the title, for there is something doing every minute. Performance will be given every afternoon and evening during the reminder of the week, with special seats for women at the matinees.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. David Marshall and Miss Chris. Goss, both recently of Scotland, were married last night by Rev. Mr. Samuel Jackson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Strachan, 22 Bellevue street. The best man was Mr. John Johnson, also of Scotland, and the bridesmaid was Miss Annie Strachan, a cousin of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will reside in this city.

A LIVELY CONTEST

LYNN, Oct. 1.—The balloting in the fifth district convention for the republican candidate today developed a close contest. Up to 1 p. m. four ballots were taken, three of which were thrown out because they counted more than the 216 votes to which the convention is entitled. The first taken was a tie, 111 votes each, between Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Goss of Salem and Dr. Edward G. Frothingham of Haverhill, the two candidates, having 113 votes each. Chairman James E. Tolman of Gloucester had much difficulty in running the convention. The meeting was seldom in actual order and a series of illegals were numerous. After the fourth ballot had been declared illegal a considerable element in the convention cried for a roll call.

CUT HIS THROAT

Man Killed His Cell Mate

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—In a quarrel at the county prison at Honesburg, a suburb, today over the possession of a loaf of bread, Anton Zachish killed his cellmate, Pietro Grambrano, by slashing his throat with a razor. This was shaving day at the prison and a razor was placed at each cell by the keepers. Zachish said he killed Grambrano in self defense and that the quarrel was caused by Grambrano taking possession of a loaf of bread given them for breakfast. Both men were serving a short sentence for minor offenses.

LABORERS HURT

Big Boulder Crashed Through Covering

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 1.—Two Italian laborers were seriously, perhaps fatally, injured today when a boulder weighing one-half a ton crashed through a temporary wooden covering in a ditch being excavated by the new Cambridge subway in Harvard square. Half a score of others who had heard the splintering of the wood barely in time managed to flee. A cable used to hoist the boulders snapped, causing the accident.

GIRL IS MISSING

Pretty Josephine Savoie Can't be Found

WORCESTER, Oct. 1.—All traces of pretty Josephine Savoie, 15 years old, of Central Falls, R. I., whose mother placed her aboard the Montreal train Tuesday in Union station, Worcester, have been lost, and her parents have asked the Worcester police to help them find her.

They were confident that their daughter was safe in the convent of the Sisters of Mercy in Montreal, where she was to complete her education, but they have received a telegram from the sister superior announcing that Miss Savoie had not yet arrived at the school.

Mrs. Savoie remembers now that a Central Falls young man bought a ticket for Canada at the same time they did. He started from Central Falls in the same train with them and boarded the same train in Worcester, but the mother thought nothing of it at the time.

Since his going away nothing has been heard of this young man by his friends in Central Falls and it is now believed by both parents that the two young people have eloped.

BOSTON WOMAN WOMEN ARE HELD

Cases Go to the Grand Jury

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 1.—The four women members of prominent local families, charged by the police with shoplifting, were brought before the court today, bound over to the next session of the grand jury and released on bail. It was understood today that the police were planning to make several more arrests. They claim that hundreds of dollars worth of property has been taken from the local department stores, extending over a period of two years. These before the court today were: Mrs. Gertrude Dyer, 35, daughter of E. B. Dyer, Portland, Me.; French consular agent here; Clara A. French, proprietor of a prominent boarding house; Mattie Doughty, 25, and Mrs. Nelsine Doughty, 21, wife of Ralph Doughty, both of 37 Late street.

The uncovering of what the police believe to be a systematic stealing of valuable goods has caused somewhat of a sensation about the city. Every where today the story was being discussed.

LOST ITS EFFECT

Testimony of Chief of Police Demo

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 1.—The startling testimony given yesterday by Benjamin Demo, chief of police of Massachusetts, that Daniel Blake Russell, claimant for one-half the $700,000 estate of Daniel Russell of Melrose, as the latter's son, is James D. Russell, lost much of its effect today when Chief Demo stated that Russell had gray eyes and was a very forward disposition. The petitioner has brown eyes and is of a quiet and retiring disposition. These contradictory facts were brought out in cross-examination of Demo. Neither Daniel R. Russell, nor William C. Russell who he claims as his brother and who is at present in possession of one-half the estate, were in court today.

ARMY OFFICERS

Say They Were Born Under Unlucky Star

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Scattered throughout the United States, its insular possessions are a number of officers of the army who are said to be talking just now about the unlucky star under which they were born. It all arises from asking the government to send them longevity pay which the supreme court on the United States decision recently they were entitled to. The government has refused to do so, claiming that the officers were not in the service at the time of the war. The officers who were absent from their commands to small recruits or to perform other duty were entitled to the pay of the superior officers unless they were assigned to organizations other than their own. Of the officers who applied for longevity pay it was found that about 120 were overpaid during the war and that many owed the government more than the government owed them. They were so notified.

Except for the privilege of taking an appeal to the controller of the treasury, the only satisfaction these officers are said to have received is that some might and surprises await other officers of the army.

EXPLORER COOK

To Lecture in Washington Next Sunday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—In view of the polar controversy the board of directors of the National Geographic society today held a special meeting to determine the attitude it should assume toward Dr. Frederick A. Cook upon the occasion of his visit here next Sunday when he will deliver a lecture on his Arctic experiences. The decision was reached that Dr. Cook, under the circumstances, could not be recognized in an official way.

The conclusions of the board were stated in an announcement by Prof. Willis T. Moore, president of the society, in which it was urged that both Commander Peary and Dr. Cook lose nothing in submitting their observations, notes and data to a competent scientific commission in the United States.

The announcement states: "Upon the society can accept the conclusions of either Commander Peary or Dr. Cook that the North pole has been attained it will be necessary that the scientific records and data of both explorers be carefully examined by its committee on its researches by some body or commission acceptable to the board. The society takes this position not from any distrust of the personal integrity of either explorer, but because of the many calculations that enter into the determination of the pole. The National Geographic society urges Commander Peary and Dr. Cook speedily to submit all their observations, notes and data to a competent scientific commission in the United States."

His Grace Archbishop O'Connell at Sacred Heart church.
Smith, O. M. U. and other Clergymen.

The Holy Name society will meet at the Sacred Heart church at 12:15 Sunday afternoon.

The Matthews will be in line on Tremont street at 1:30 p. m.

The Hibernians will form on Cornhill street at 1:30 p. m. and delegations from Catholic societies on Congress street.

The O. M. U. Cadets will occupy the right of line on Davis square and the Holy Name Society will form on Central street. All the societies and delegations turning out are to be in position at 1:30 p. m. and ready to start promptly at 2 p. m. Per order of James Ward, Chief Marshal.

YACHT DESTROYED

NOANK, Conn., Oct. 1.—The mysterious being retained although the lady yacht Santa owned by Captain J. Albert Fish of New York and flying the colors of the Columbia Yacht club of New York and the Rhode Island Yacht club, was destroyed by fire and an explosion while anchored on Long Point early today. The owner and captain, Martin Seaman, and crew of three, escaped in a boat but lost their effects. A leak in the gas tank probably was the cause of the fire. The yacht was built by William Pitt & Sons on the Clyde, eight years ago, but had been on this side of the Atlantic about six years, the Southampton, England registration being retained although the home port was New York. The yacht was valued at about $35,000. It has come here to lay up for the season in a few days.

This morning Mr. Fish arose early to go duck hunting. He left the yacht but returned for ammunition. As it was dark below he lit a match going down the companionway and instantly gas which had leaked into the cabin ignited. The members of the crew barely got overboard as the boat before the flames had worked on this side of the Atlantic about six years, the Southampton, England registration being retained although the home port was New York. The yacht was valued at about $35,000. It has come here to lay up for the season in a few days.

FRANK DUCCOIN

MEETS SOME OF HIS OLD FRIENDS IN LOWELL

Mr. Frank Ducoin, agent for B. C. Whitney's attraction "A Broken Bid" which played here last Saturday was in town today and met some of his old friends. The piece will be presented here again at the Opera house next Thursday evening, many persons who saw the performance last Saturday having requested Manager Ward of the Opera house to endeavor to get a return engagement. Mr. Ducoin has a great knowledge of the theatrical business and enjoys an acquaintance with all the big men in the profession.

FOUND HIS WIFE

Haverhill Woman Had Been Missing Since Tuesday

HAVERHILL, Oct. 1.—The mysterious case of Mrs. Gertrude Roswell, wife of William H. Roswell, who left her home last Tuesday after writing a note to her husband that she intended to commit suicide, was partially cleared up last night by the finding of the woman in the railroad station at Exeter, N. H., by her husband.

Having twice before attempted suicide, once by gas at her home and a second time by drowning at Salisbury Beach, the woman's continued absence since Tuesday had her relatives to fear that the third attempt had succeeded. Although Mrs. Roswell appeared dazed and could account in but a small measure the woman was not on board and the conductor knew nothing of such a passenger.

A few hours later Mrs. George Newington of Haverhill received a telephone message from Mrs. Roswell, who said she was in Exeter and wanted to see her husband.

Mr. Roswell notified the Exeter police and immediately went to that place. He found his wife sitting in the waiting room of the station.

Late last night Mr. Roswell returned home with his wife.

THE MAURETANIA

Broke the Trans-Atlantic Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Forty-four minutes more was clipped from the Trans-Atlantic record by the Cunard liner Mauretania, which arrived yesterday afternoon from Liverpool and Queenstown. The Mauretania, which won the title from her sister ship, the Lusitania, on her latest trip, completed her run of 2748 knots last night in 4 days, 16 hours and 51 mins., at an average speed of 26.06 knots an hour. Her best previous trip was 4 days, 11 hours and 35 minutes, and the average speed 25.9 knots had hitherto stood at 25.7 knots an hour.

THE LUMBER CAR JUDGE WHITMAN

Winner of the Reliability Hughes' Friend Seeks Jerome's Place

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The grand sweepstakes prize for the best record for any car entered in the Frank A. Munsey reliability contest, Washington to Boston and return, was awarded to the Elmore car of Philadelphia, entered by Frank Hardart of that city, and driven by his son. Not a point was registered against the car, and the driving of Young Hardart, who was pitted against some of the best professionals in the country, has been one of the most remarkable ever seen in any reliability contest.

The first prize for division No. 1, including cars worth $850 and under, went to the Ford car, entered by Chas. D. Miller and brother of Washington, D. C., and was driven by Miller. It had 69 points against it.

The prize in division No. 2, cars of $851 to $1250, was won by the Maxwell, 57 points.

Division No. 3, $1251 to $2000, the Crawford, 512 points.

Division No. 4, $2001 to $3000, the Elmore, driven by Frank Hardart, Jr., of Philadelphia, clear score.

Division No. 5, $3001 to $4000, the American Simplex, 9-10 of a point penalty.

Division No. 6, $4001 and over, the Renault, four-tenths of a point.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Charles S. Whitman, who has been nominated by the republicans of New York county for district attorney, the office now held by William Travers Jerome, is president of the board of city magistrates, in which office he has been the ardent foe of police graft. He has done much toward stamping out the bail bond racket around the police stations. On one occasion he conducted a raid against a saloon which remained open through police protection and held court in the police station at night to try the accused men. He is a close personal friend of Governor Hughes.

REV. FR. SEARLE

Says We Shall be Inside Comet's Tail

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 1.—The calculation of Frank E. Searle, of Providence, R. I., that Halley's comet will be nearest the earth on May 19, 1910, is confirmed by Rev. Father George Mary Searle of New York, superior general of the Paulist Fathers, and widely known as an astronomer and especially as the discoverer of the "asteroid Pandora."

A lengthy communication from Father Searle was received last night at the Harvard college observatory, where he was formerly an assistant. Father Searle bases his calculations on observations made at Lick observatory, San Jose, Cal., on September 12, 13 and 14 and on the elements given by Professors Cowell and Crommelin in March last.

Father Searle states that May 18, the earth and the celebrated comet will be in heliocentric conjunction in longitude, the longitude being 236 degrees, 45 minutes. The heliocentric latitude of the comet would be minus 7 minutes.

There will be no actual transit of the comet over the sun's disk according to these elements, but Father Searle says a slight change might produce one. "At any rate," says Father Searle, "it seems highly probable that we shall on May 19 be inside the comet's tail."

Father Searle in his calculations made public yesterday, said that the earth and the comet will meet at the same plane, but not in the same path. He said the earth would not be endangered, but that it will be swept by "star dust" similar to the display of June 30, 1891, when the tail of the comet of '91, caused some apprehension among the superstitious shortly after the beginning of the Civil war. Searle expressed the opinion that Halley's comet would not come nearer to the earth than 6,235,000 miles.

ROBERT COLLIER

WON PRIZE IN THE GOLF TOURNAMENT

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Robert Collier, the New York publisher, won the chief prize yesterday in the senior's fifth annual golf tournament at the Apawamut club. He took with him P. Sheldon of New York, for the prize at 34 holes and on the playoff did 93-101-81, while Sheldon took 95-104-85.

The tie game, played at Sheldon, 92-95-107; Collier, 93-94-101.

The first prize money was won by James H. Ford, Apawamut, who made 92-93-100.

ADmiral MERRELL RELIEVED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Rear Admiral J. P. Merrill has been relieved from active duty and ordered to his home. He was relieved on September 18, 1909, and has since continued to serve as president of the naval reserve at Newport, R. I., and as a member of the board of directors of the United States Navy at Washington, D. C.

It will be reported by the press that Merrill is a member of the board of directors of the United States Navy at Washington, D. C.

VICIOUS ASSAULT

Made Upon Two Men Near Davidson Street Last Night

Joseph Korsak and Wladyslaw Stanislaus, who reside in the vicinity of Davidson street, were badly beaten last night and Alexander Szimboski, a fellow countryman, is under arrest charged with having assaulted them.

When the two unfortunate appeared in court this morning their heads were done up in bandages which were saturated with blood, and the men presented a frightful appearance.

It is alleged that there has been considerable ill feeling among the Armenians, the two complainants, having testified against the defendant in an assault and battery case in which he was the defendant recently.

Yesterday Szimboski and another man were co-defendants in an assault and battery case and the former was found not guilty and discharged while the latter was found guilty.

It is alleged that last night Szimboski felt jubilant over his being discharged and went out looking for Korsak and Stanislaus and that when he found them he hammered one on the face with a stone and then threw the missile at the other.

Dr. Taber was called and after attending the men bandaged their heads and faces.

The case will be heard in police court Thursday morning.

Fine of $75 in Liquor Case

John J. Hanley, whose residence at 17 Merrimack street was visited last Sunday morning by Liquor Inspectors Thomas D. Atkinson and George B. Palmer and a quantity of beer and liquor taken, was arraigned before Judge Hladley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with illegally keeping and exposing for sale intoxicating liquors.

The two inspectors, former Liquor Inspector Philip Dwyer testified to the condition of affairs at the house and Mr. Hanley testified in his own behalf, the latter being represented by Lawyer J. Joseph Connor.

After the testimony had been offered the court found Hanley guilty and imposed a fine of $75.

Liquor Inspector Atkinson testified that he visited the house occupied by Mr. Hanley in Merrimack street on Dec. 27, 1909. He was accompanied by Inspector Dwyer and found six men in a front room. There were two men in another room. In the ice chest in the kitchen there were fourteen bottles of ale and four empty bottles in a beer case close by. In another room there were 24 empty ale bottles in a case.

In the pantry he found two plates of whiskey in two quart bottles. There was also a quart of Sherry wine. Under the sink were six whiskey glasses which had an odor of liquor. There were also two trays on a table in the kitchen.

Inspector Atkinson testified that on Feb. 14th of this year he visited Mr. Hanley's house and found 38 full bottles of ale and six empty bottles in a case in the kitchen. In the cellar there were 24 empty ale bottles in a case.

Last Sunday witness, accompanied by Inspector Palmer, went to the cellar of the Hanley house and found 43 full and five empty bottles and took up a position on the flat roof of a three story tenement block at the corner of Rogers and Merrimack streets.

They saw 27 men call between 5.10 and 9.07 in the morning.

Former Liquor Inspector Philip Dwyer testified to his visiting the premises on Dec. 27, his testimony being similar to that offered by Inspector Atkinson.

Mr. Hanley, the defendant, after testifying to the location of his house and premises said that he let one portion of the barn to some young men for a club house. He denied that the liquor found in his house was for anything other than home consumption.

The court after summing up the evidence in the case found Hanley guilty and imposed a fine of $75. He appealed and was held for the superior court.

Discharged a Rifle

Theodoras Kysiazas, Nicholas Zowczek and Valles Antikas were charged with discharging a gun in violation of a city ordinance. According to the testimony of Patrolmen Frank Donovan and Charles Hamilton the trio went to the outskirts of Pawtucketville yesterday and were enjoying themselves discharging a double barrel rifle. In court this morning the trio was found guilty and fines of $5 were imposed.

Drunken Offenders

There were three first offenders who were each fined $2.

Case Continued

The case of Lizzie Bamfield, charged with assault and battery on Leo Brady, was continued till Tuesday morning.

FUNERALS

COLLINS—The funeral of the late Mrs. Isabella J. Collins took place this morning at 9.30 o'clock from her home, 145 Andrews street, and was largely attended. # DOCTORS RESIGN

Said to Have Had Trouble With the Matron

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 1.—As the result of a disagreement between the medical staff and the matron, Miss Augusta C. Robertson, at the Elliot hospital, the staff, with the exception of one physician, has resigned. Eighteen physicians have attached their signatures to a document of resignation, which will be presented to the board of trustees of the institution.

The doctors who have resigned are Drs. William M. Parsons, L. Melville French, George D. Towne, H. D. W. Carville, H. B. Burdham, W. H. Patton, C. D. Flanders, G. M. Watson, C. W. Milliken, J. Franklin Robinson, David W. Parker, Arthur P. Wheat, H. W. N. Bennett, F. N. Rogers, C. O. Corns, E. A. Jones, J. E. O'Connor and Emdon Fritz. This comprises the entire medical staff, with the exception of Dr. George C. Wilkins.

From the side of the medical staff an attempt to secure just the charges against the matron were met with a declination to issue a formal complaint unless the trustees of the hospital should force such action. The statement was made that as soon as it was proper the staff would make public charges in detail and would specify all items of complaint, which, the physicians aver, are numerous.

There is said to be nothing in any way to reflect on Miss Robertson in a personal way, but that the basis of the charges consist in complaints that the matron had frequently disobeyed the physicians in the rules laid down for the care of patients, that under her management the hospital was not conducted with all due care to medical exigencies, that Miss Robertson overruled the doctors in certain cases, and that she had criticized one doctor in the presence of another, etc. The staff assertions reach the point whereby the matron is alleged by the physicians to be incompetent for the position she holds.

There is a general denial from the matron, who feels secure in her position because of backing of the trustees of the hospital. Miss Robertson is a graduate of the Massachusetts general hospital and has had 20 years' experience in hospital work.

A LITTLE RED SPOT

Novel Experiment by Which It May Be Made to Disappear

A peculiar feature about posium, the new skin discovery, is that no one is asked to buy it without first sending to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, for an experimental sample and applying same to an affected part of the skin, about the size of a silver dollar. It will clear the spot so treated in twenty-four hours—a remarkable visual demonstration of its power.

While posium has been mentioned principally in connection with the cure of eczema, the most stubborn of skin diseases, it must be remembered that when used for itch, hives, pimples, blotches, acne, itching feet, scaly scalp, chapping of infants and similar minor skin troubles its action is all the more pronounced, results being seen after an overnight application. As only a small quantity of posium is necessary to cure such cases, a special fifty-cent package, usually sufficient, has been placed on sale at Fells & Burkinshaw's, and Carter & Sherburne's, and other leading drug stores in Lowell and throughout the country.

SEN. J. H. HIBBARD

Renominated by Republicans by Acclamation

Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard was renominated for senator by acclamation by the republicans of the eighth senatorial district yesterday afternoon in a thoroughly harmonious and perfunctory convention held at republican headquarters.

There were 25 delegates present out of a possible 49, representing the seven Lowell wards in the district and nine towns.

W. W. Duncan of Lowell, member of the state committee from the district, called the convention to order, and George H. Taylor of Lowell was made temporary chairman and Fred A. Bassett of Dracut temporary secretary. This organization was later made permanent. The committee on credentials consisted of Messrs. Tuttle, Cheney and Dent of Lowell, Longley of Shirley, Butterfield of Tyngsboro, Sargent of Dunstable and Blake of Pepperell.

Senator Hibbard's name was placed in nomination by Wallace P. Butterfield of Tyngsboro, and the nomination was by acclamation.

Senator Hibbard was then escorted to the platform, and he made a brief speech of thanks.

A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. David and Partholomew of Lowell and Higgins of Townsend, retired to arrange a list of names for district committee, and they reported as follows, which list was adopted:

For district committee—Lowell, ward 1, E. T. Goward; ward 2, Augustus P. Sarge; ward 3, W. A. Partholomew; ward 4, Fred A. Tuttle; ward 5, Clovis Belanger; ward 6, James H. McKinley; ward 7, Albert W. David; Dracut, Fred A. Bassett; Chelmsford, Wm. H. Hall; Dunstable, Frank H. Sargent; Groton, G. W. Shattuck, Peppercell, Edgar W. Blake; Tyngsboro, Wallace P. Butterfield; Townsend, J. J. Piper; Ashby, Harry Hingham; Shirley, S. W. Longley.

Wm. W. Duncan, on motion of Albert W. David, was re-elected a member of the state central committee.

S. W. Longley made a speech, urging the republicans of the district to get out a full party vote at the election.

Senator Hibbard provided a light lunch for the delegates.

Lowell Man Appointed

At the meeting of the republican state committee yesterday to arrange the state for the state convention, W. W. Duncan, the member from Lowell, appointed Royal K. Dexter as the vice president from Lowell; Wm. E. Westall, on the committee on credentials; Solon W. Stevens, on committee on resolutions, and Frank A. Torrey of Groton, on the committee on ballots.

HOST OF ENTRIES

For Tomorrow's Races at Washington Park

The entries for the five mile and three mile races to be held at Washington park tomorrow in connection with the match between Dan O'Leary and Ed Holske's Unknown closed at the Richardson hotel last evening and the number of entries assures two of the best races ever held here. In addition to the entries published in yesterday's Sun, the following were received last evening:

Five mile race—James Adie, Herman Incognito, William Salmon, John W. Mahon, Charles Croeland, John Emerson, Peter Panchot, Daniel White, William Bernard, making 32 entries for the five mile race.

Three mile race for boys—Michael Harrington, Joseph Maloney, John Miskell, Tommy Dignan, Herman Incognito, Heroge Reynolds, H. Wolf and Sarantos Gerakas, making 25 entries.

The entrants will meet Mr. O'Leary at the Richardson hotel at 8 o'clock this evening to arrange for their numbers and admission to the grounds.

The course has been marked off eight laps to the mile, thus giving those who desire to attend in carriages or autos an opportunity to enter the grounds with their conveyances.

The smallness of the course gives the runner a slight advantage for he can get out from the post-strut, and as it is the track has a quarter of a mile he could not use his opponent as a packmaker.

SOCIAL REUNION

OF FIRST BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL

The annual social reunion of the teachers and officers of the First Baptist Sunday school was held last night in the church parlors with an attendance numbering about 50. The supper, provided by George H. Taylor, and there were addresses by Miss Mabel Brown, Miss Annie Gorman and Mr. Wm. T. Shepard, followed by their European trip the past summer. Mrs. S. W. Cummings, wife of the pastor, spoke interestingly of the last of the school, and the pastor addressed the gathering on the subject of the welfare of the school, and the progress

BLACK AND COLORED DRESS FABRICS

This is our fifth year selling the best productions from the foremost Dress Goods manufacturers of England, France, Germany, Austria and America. Comprising Homespuns, Diagonals, Tussah Crepe, Chiffon Broadcloths, Ottoman, French Serges, Royalties, Chevrans, Chiffon Panama, French Voiles, Satin Prunella, and many others. THE COLORS OF THE DRESS GOODS! Where did the dye masters find them? Dye vats have discounted nature's rarest tints. There are names for them, but they convey no sense of the shades and fractions of shades. You must see them.

BLACK DRESS GOODS—Full ranks—nothing missing from our Black Dress Goods stock. Variety great enough to respond to every taste and every need.

HERE IS THE LIST OF FAVORITES:

MURILLO SUITINGS

These all wool fabrics have goodness all their own. Not slazy, loosely woven kinds shown elsewhere. These fabrics on sale today are strongly defined, bold, striking, and are shown in a variety of new Fall colors and black. 44 inches wide. Value $1.00 a yard.

ALL WOOL SERGES

Serges are the fabrics that fashion seems to favor now for the new gown. The twills are even and firm and the finish is soft and rich. 50 inches wide, in the latest shades of Smoke, Navy Blue, Dark Wine, Myrtle Green, including Black and Cream. Value $1.25 a yard.

Price $1.00

WORSTED DIAGONALS

It is a just blossomed fabric—the thrown-up bias lines are definite and clean-cut, and their cross threads produce a glistening, changeful effect. It will be a leader during the Fall and Winter seasons. 54 inches wide. Value $2.00 a yard.

Price $1.50

BLACK LEUTINA PRUNELLA

What is having a more popular run than Prunella? There is just one answer to that question. Many of the handsomest suits for women are Prunella. A rich satin-faced fabric, permanent finish, will not spot with water. Value $1.25 a yard.

Price 98c

BLACK TUSSAH CREPE

There is a mild rage for Crepe. It is one of the newest, richest weaves—and it is full of crepe beauty. You would think it is all Silk as you notice its glinting sheen—it is mohair and wool, and every dry goods dealer will tell you that such a union makes for strength. A bright, rich Black.

BLACK CHIFFON BROADCLOTH

We don't just make the stereotyped statement that it is sponged, shrunk and spot-proof. We guarantee it. If snow or rain shrinks or spots a dress made of it we give you prompt redress. This Austrian cloth that feels like Chamois merits strong words. Buy it and you will supply the words. 54 inches wide.

TO ABOLISH EXPENSIVE GRADUATIONS.

The school committee of Somerville has started a movement to do away with the expensive graduation exercises as they are usually carried out in most cities of the state. The purchase of graduation dresses is an unnecessary burden upon the poorer pupils, causing some of them to drop out before graduating or else to go in debt for the necessary outfit. A special committee, appointed for the purpose of investigating the matter, has reported data sufficient to justify the abolition of the graduation exercises as they have been conducted in the past. The committee has also found what will be admitted as a fact, that the last five weeks at school are mainly wasted in preparation for the public display of graduation. Better have it done quietly without any of the publicity or the dress parade usually attached to the closing exercises.

AFTER THE SMALL LOAN SHARKS.

Police Commissioner O'Meara has started a crusade against loan sharks who for some time past have been fleecing many of the poor people of Boston and indeed of many other cities. Some, of course, do business on a reasonable profit, but others, it is alleged, demand outrageous interest. There are new regulations governing the small loan business, and among other things they forbid the loaning man to assign his wages to secure a loan. Under the operation of this restriction the number of concerns in the business in Boston has been reduced from 72 to 48. Boston is not the only city affected by the loan sharks. In nearly every city in New England the same business is conducted. In some the extortions are worse than in others. The average loan shark under pretense of helping his patrons frequently takes advantage of their circumstances to extort the most unreasonable rates of interest.

SECRETARY WILSON'S ABSURD STATEMENT.

Very few will agree with Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department when he says the cause of high prices of meat is mainly due to the fact that the masses eat more meat than formerly. It is very strange that a cabinet officer should give out a statement so utterly baseless and contrary to the facts.

Our population is larger than formerly, and if Secretary Wilson had said that the meat supply is not keeping pace with the population, then he might have adduced figures to support his statement. But to hint that the working people are so prosperous that they are buying more meat than formerly and thereby putting up the price of meat is a gratuitous falsehood that brands the official who made it either as a superficial observer or a man who makes reckless statements for which there is no proof. The fact that the industries of the country show activity does not prove that prosperity abounds.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON'S LAST MESSAGE.

The last message of the late Governor Johnson of Minnesota was a clarion call to the democracy and patriotism of the west. It shows how broad-minded and truly American he was and how devoted to the best interests of the country. The following from his pen appeared in one of the great magazines on the day of his funeral:—

"The call of the west," he writes, "is for development. It is the call of the race to the vanguard of progress. The west knows no rest, no stopping place. . . . The call of the west is the call for liberty, equality, manhood, fair play. . . . The call of the west is the call for patriotism and progress, for emancipation from every form of old-world and new-world caste and privilege, from the tyranny of wealth and birth, and alike from the dominion of the trust and political machine; and the call of the west, if I read aright the spirit of our land, is today, as in the days of Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, the call of the American people."

This brief passage reflects the patriotism and the democracy of the man. It indicates what a loss the democratic party has sustained in the removal of one of its most brilliant leaders.

MAKE A "MEMO" OF IT.

Whenever you do anything that should be remembered, make a memo of it and write the date, not forgetting the year.

How often do we turn to past letters or even records to find the date written "Sept. 30," or something similar, without the year.

Alas! the years flee so quickly that it is but a short time until we begin to look back through the maze and ask ourselves when did this or that happen, not what day or week, but what year?

Ah! the year is the important thing when we have to look back over the waste of a quarter of a century or still worse a half a century.

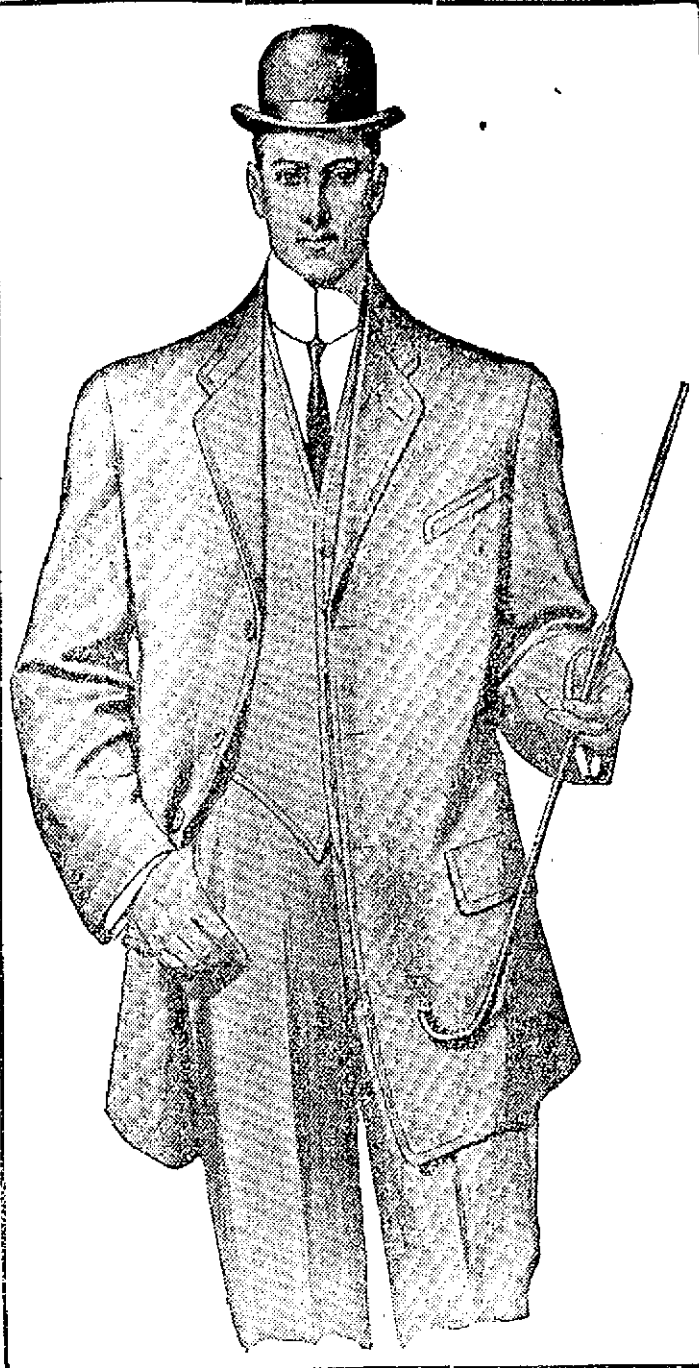

Many people think they will remember just when these passing events occurred, no matter how long it may be afterwards. But in this they are greatly mistaken. The memory is like a sieve, always letting something slip through, and in the course of years it will have let a vast number of things that we cherished slip away into the region of forgetfulness.

It is then the little "memo" of important events, the day and the year, will give us a clear understanding of the chronology of our lives.

It is really remarkable how easily we forget the date of some of the more important events of our own lives. Some people occasionally start to keep a diary in which to note important events. It is an excellent idea if kept up, and if started and dropped, the fact shows that the individual has but little resolution and less tenacity of purpose. In the ordinary routine of life it is well to be mindful of things past, careful of things present and provident of things to come. If each of us noted the things accomplished at the time, it would always be interesting to look back to see the progress made through the years, or if there was no progress the blank page showing the lack of accomplishment might be an inspiration to do something worthy of record in a diary of our lives.

Cultivate then the diary habit if you will but at least make a "memo" of whatever is worthy of note in your daily life. The record will help you in the future and show either the industry or the indolence of your past years.

SEEN AND HEARD

The fellow who deals cards or runs a crap game for a living is not complaining much about Lowell's present administration.

Failure is the wise man's teacher.

A rule that can't be broken is a dangerous one. So is one that has to be broken.

Some things should be done just to let them off your mind.

A buggy ride into the country was not even thought of on Sunday, except by the village strollers in the days of the Puritan. Gee, ain't we glad we didn't live in those days? Echo answers—"Yes."

John Josselyn, an English traveler and writer who visited New England in 1658 and again in 1683, remarking that, until 1671, has left behind a number of interesting notes describing life in the Puritan settlements. He wrote that "for kissing a woman in the street, though in way of civil salute," was punishable by fine or whipping.

A later writer maintained that in the New Haven colony a man who kissed his wife in her own wife, not some other man's, on the Sabbath was subject to a fine of three shillings and four pence, and in default of payment should be flogged 25 times.

The maximum length of life of some of the best known animals is as follows: The horse lives to a maximum of thirty-five years; and the donkey, a few years less. The dog does not exceed twenty-five years; the rabbit from eight to ten; the goose, thirty; the duck, the hen and the turkey, a dozen years.

Among the animals having the best established reputation for longevity are: The crow which lives 100 years; the parrot and the elephant, which attain an age of 150 years. Carp, on the other hand, appear to have usurped their reputation which was based on ill-understood facts from Chantilly and Fontainebleau. They rarely became centenarians. The tortoise appears to be the animal that lives the longest, and the record of longevity is surely held by one weighing 250 kilograms, which was presented in 1904 to the London zoological gardens by Walter De Rothschild, and which is said to have been born in 1750.

THE BELL OF THE ANGELS.
It is said somewhere at twilight
A great bell softly swings,
And a man may listen and hearken
To the wondrous music that rings.
If he hear from his heart's inner chamber
For
All the passion, pain, and strife,
Hopes, and fears, and longings,
That thrush in the pulses of life;
If he thoughts from his soul all hatred,
All thoughts of wicked things,
He can hear in the holy twilight
How the bell of the angels rings.

MY LADY MOON
So slowly down the western sky
You sail, my Lady Moon,
The drowsy clouds that after dy
Will surely hide you soon.
Be true to all the stars with you,
And race the clouds along the blue,
Please take care of your gold canoe—
My pretty Lady Moon!

Around the world and home well
Goat.
My pretty Lady Moon,
I'd rather travel in your boat
Than in a cork lifeboat.
We'll look down on the rivers deep,
The lonely seas, the huddled sheep,
The woods where birds are fast Asleep.
My pretty Lady Moon!

Here all the world is green and gay
Beneath the skies of June,
But oh, what wonders far away
You climb above the mountain's crown;
You view the busy crowded town,
The restless sea, the lonely down—

My pretty Lady Moon!

Oh, let me sail the skies with you
When you're "The Harvest Moon!"
We'll choose a night when clouds are few.

And West Wind sings a tune;
When orchards shine with apples
Bright,
And reapers sing in waning light,
And you shine for their dance all Night.

My pretty Lady Moon!

SHIP SUBSIDY LAW

President Taft Will Urge Congress to Pass Measure

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 1.—Speaking before the largest audience he has faced since his trip began—a crowd that overflowed the natural amphitheatre of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition with its seating capacity of nearly 20,000—President Taft announced yesterday that he would urge in his coming message to congress the enactment of a ship subsidy law.

Mr. Taft declared that the country was ready to make such experiment and that something might be done to build up an American merchant marine. His utterances on this subject were received with great applause.

When the president turned to Alaska, however, and declared that he was opposed to granting a territorial form of government to that far off possession, the statement was received in silence.

As the president proceeded, however, and outlined his policy for the rebuilding of Alaska, of recommending government aid in the construction of railroads, of a local government by a commission of five or more members appointed by the president and co-operating with the governor, and when he told of the great possibilities that lie in Alaska, he plainly caught the favor of his hearers and was loudly cheered.

Later in the day when he was admitted to membership in the Arctic Brotherhood, an international organization made up of Canadians and Americans interested in the development of Alaska, the president announced that he intended to visit Alaska next summer and to go as far into the territory as time would permit so that he might come into contact with the people and see for himself what may best be done for their welfare.

The president frankly told the members of the brotherhood that he did not believe that Alaska is ready for entire self government.

"I am as much in favor of popular government as anybody," declared the president, "but I am in favor of popular government only when the conditions exist under which popular government may be a success and work for the benefit of the people and the government at large. When there are limitations growing out of various circumstances we must take other means until popular government becomes possible and then, of course, it is the best government in the world."

In discussing ship subsidy President Taft declared if a war should come at this time the United States would not have enough vessels to carry coal to its harbors. And it would be doubtful under the neutrality law, he added, if the United States would be able to buy foreign vessels in emergency.

The president had an interesting and busy day which ended last night with a banquet in the Washington building on the exposition grounds.

On ship subsidy, the president said: "The Panama canal will be completed on or before the first of January, 1915 and with its completion the trade between the eastern and western coasts of this country will be revolutionized, for the carriage of heavy bulk merchandise between the Pacific and Atlantic coast is almost certain to be by water. This will reduce the trans-continental business to the carriage of more valuable classes of merchandise which can profitably pay a higher rate of transportation. More than this, it will change the avenues of international trade, will bring the eastern coast of America more closely in touch with the western coast of America to European ports.

"China is waking up. She is approaching a period of development that cannot but increase her trade and augment her independence as a customer and as a trader with this country, while Japan and all the other Oriental countries are moving forward with giant steps in the commercial competition of the world.

"The many prophecies that have been made that in the next half century the commercial progress of the world is to be seen more decidedly in the Pacific than anywhere else, are certainly well founded and under these conditions it behooves us Americans interested in pushing our trade into every quarter of the globe, to take steps to repair a condition that exists in reference to our merchant marine that is humiliating to our national pride and most burdensome to us in competition with other nations in obtaining international trade.

"We maintain a protective tariff to encourage our manufacturing, farming and mining industries at home within our jurisdiction but when we assume to enter into competition upon the high seas in trade between international ports, our jurisdiction to control that trade as far as the vessels of other nations are concerned of course ceases and the question we have to meet is how with the greater wages that we pay, with the more stringent laws that we enact for the protection of our sailors and with the protective system making a difference in the price between the necessities to be used in the maintenance of a merchant marine, we shall enable that merchant marine to compete with the merchant marine of the rest of the world.

ther, for it will be found on examination of the methods pursued in old countries with respect to their merchant marine that there is now extended by way of subsidies by the various governments to their respective ships upwards of thirty-five million dollars and this offers another means by which in the competition the American merchant ship is driven out of business, finds itself utterly unable to bid against its foreign competitors.

"Not only this but so inadequate is the American merchant marine today that in selecting auxiliary ships with which to make our navy an instrument of offense or defense or indeed in sending it around the world as a fleet, we have to call on vessels sailing under a foreign flag to carry the coal and to supply the other needs of such a journey. Were we compelled to go to war today our merchant marine lacks altogether a sufficient tonnage of auxiliary or auxiliary ships absolutely necessary to the proper operation of the navy and were war to come on we should have to purchase such vessels from foreign countries and this might under the laws governing neutrality be almost difficult.

"The trade between the eastern ports of the United States and South America is a most valuable trade and now equals something like $250,000,000, but European nations, appreciating the growing character of this trade have by subsidies and other means of encouragement so increased the sailing of large and well equipped vessels from Europe to the ports of South America as to visibly to affect the proportion of trade which is coming to the United States by the very limited service of a direct character between New York and southern ports.

"I need not tell you of the inadequacy of the American shipping marine on the Pacific coast and the growing power for commercial powers in this regard of the empire of Japan. Japan is one of the most active and generous countries in the matter of subsidies to its merchant marine that we have and the effect is only too visible in an examination of the statistics.

"For this reason, it seems to me that there is no subject to which congress can better devote its attention in the coming session than the passage of a bill which shall encourage our merchant marine in such a way as to establish American lines directly between New York and other eastern ports and South American ports and between our Pacific coast ports and the Orient and Philippines.

"We earn a profit from our foreign mails from $8,000,000 to $20,000,000 a year. The application of that amount would be quite sufficient to put on a satisfactory basis two or three Oriental lines and several lines from the East to South America. Of course we are familiar with the argument that this would be contributing to private companies out of the treasury fund of the United States, but we are thus contributing in various ways on similar principles in effect by our protective tariff law, by our river and harbor bills and by our reclamation service. We are not putting money in the pockets of the ship owners, but

SEE DIRECTIONS BELOW

Arrange the Books on line 1-2 above to form piano name. The word piano is formed also by the books.

$365 Piano Absolutely FREE

FIRST PRIZE

OVER $13,500 WORTH OF ADDITIONAL PRIZES

NO CHARGE OF ANY KIND TO ENTER. YOU HAVE THE SAME OPPORTUNITY AS ANYONE ELSE TO WIN.

We have never known a more interesting contest or one which offered such valuable prizes absolutely free. This combines the fascination of the cut-up puzzle and the skill of arranging the books so as to form the name of a famous piano. This grand free distribution of over $13,500 worth of prizes is of vital interest to any home without a piano. Be sure to try.

Cut out the books and paste them standing up on line 1-2 so as to form a famous piano name, a familiar name to all, one of the oldest and best known in the musical world. The word piano is also formed by the books and is to be put after the name of a famous piano. The nearest correct answer will be given the $365 Piano absolutely free. Next nearest correct answers prize certificates as stated below.

Everyone has an equal opportunity. You may get the piano or a high certificate as well as anyone else. If you care for music and want a piano, this is the greatest opportunity you will ever have. This contest was especially prepared for pianists homes, and it will be the means of our distributing hundreds of pianos. We are placing this large advertising sum ($12,555) directly among piano buyers, where it will do the most good. Instead of spending it in expensive magazine advertising, we want piano buyers to earn the piano or the prize certificate by their skill. There is no catch or chance. Read the simple condition. Send your answer in early. Start on it tonight.

THE PRIZES First prize—A fine new piano valued at $365. Second prize—A certificate of credit for $125. Third prize—A certificate of credit for $110. The next six best answers will be given a credit certificate for $50. Following these in groups of six or more, each contestant sending in the next best answer will be given a credit certificate of $1 less than the previous—that is, six at $49, next six at $48, etc., until the amount has been awarded.

Special advertising appropriation—In addition to the above prizes, the company will voluntarily issue to each of the remaining contestants a special certificate of credit, of not less than $25, as an award for their effort in this contest.

These certificates are good on the purchase of any new Hallet & Davis, Connors or Kimball piano or Player piano in our warerooms at regular retail price. Time of certificate is limited. Certificate cannot be applied on any purchase made previous to October 7, 1909. Only one certificate may be applied on the purchase of one piano.

In case the judges find two or more answers of equal merit, duplicates of the prize offered will be given to each. All answers must be in before 5 p.m., October 7, 1909. Copies of this advertisement will be furnished free on application at this office.

"JIM" JEFFRIES

Thinks Fight Purse Should be $150,000

PARIS, Oct. 1.—James J. Jeffries, the American heavyweight who has been training here for his proposed fight with Jack Johnson, said yesterday that he had almost completely recovered from the cold which he contracted several days ago while attending the races. He will leave here for London on Tuesday next and will take the steamer for the United States on Oct. 10.

Jeffries expresses himself as disappointed at the offer of $50,000 for a fight, saying:

"I am the champion of the world. I have everything to lose and nothing to gain. Therefore, I don't want to fight for a purse of less than $150,000. I should prefer to fight in America, rather than in Australia, and have reason to believe that the governors of several states would be willing to allow a fight to take place." Continuing, the big heavyweight said he considered himself in splendid physical condition, and that the only thing he feared was a man with a powerful left.

CITY COUNCIL

Took Action on Death of Ald. Turner

Special meetings of both branches of the city council were called last night, and both branches met in joint convention to take action upon the death of the late Alderman John D. Turner. The joint convention was held in the council chamber. The mayor presided and the following committees were appointed:

The committee on funeral consisted of the mayor, members of the board of aldermen and President Stanley E. Qua and Councilmen McKenney, Welch, Kilpatrick, Achin and Tracy.

A joint order to appoint two aldermen and three councilmen to the committee on resolutions was adopted. These appointed were: Aldermen Adams and Baker and Councilmen Flanagan, Butler and Vincent.

Cornors and Councilman Kilpatrick spoke briefly in appreciation of Mr. Turner.

AT ST. PETER'S

HOLY NAME COMMITTEE DISCUSSES MANY MATTERS

The breakfast committee of St. Peter's Holy Name society met last evening and discussed at length plans for the event on Oct. 10th. Chairman Vincent fully presided and reports were heard from various sub-committees, showing that a large crowd is expected at the evening entertainment, day that previously. The members, after discussing the details for the entertainment of the society, remarks were made by James J. Butler, Michael H. McDermott, John J. Cook, Michael J. McGowan, Vincent, Thomas Richard Lyons and Fred Palk. All the speakers referred to the bright future for the society and predicted a most successful fall and winter season. Mr. Cook of the literary committee was particularly enthusiastic over the prospects for an enjoyable season, and said his committee had several plans under consideration for bringing before the membership several well known speakers.

JUSTICE GAYNOR

Nominated for Mayor by Democrats

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Justice Gaynor was nominated for mayor by the democratic city convention last night.

The nomination was made amid great enthusiasm and by an unanimous vote.

Tammany had its own way at the convention, which initiates the democratic campaign for control of the city government for the next four years. Of the 1679 delegates represented, Tammany had contributed to all intents and purposes—of almost the entire representation of the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, mastering 918 votes.

The Tammany cohorts were so strong that they overrode with the greatest ease the opposition headed by Senator Patrick H. McCarron of Brooklyn, who hoped for the renomination of Comptroller Metz of that borough. The convention nominated for this office Robert H. Moore, president of the Commercial Trust company, the Tammany selection.

In the majority fight, Justice Gaynor's chief opponent will be Otto T. Baunard, president of the New York Trust company, who was nominated by the republicans a few days ago, and who has some assurances of support from the Fusionists. There yet remains the possibility that the independent league will make the contest a triangular one by naming a separate ticket.

The platform adopted by the democratic convention dealt broadly with national state and municipal questions, denouncing the recent tariff legislation and objecting to any interference in local affairs by the state legislature.

Regarding city affairs, the platform advocated municipal ownership, the building of additional subways by the city, retrenchment in expenses, the three platform system for the police-men, and the more rigid enforcement of the eight hour day for city and public service employees.

There was no mention or even indirect reference in the platform to the retiring administration of Mayor McClellan, who led the party to victory four years ago. This rather astonishing omission called forth considerable comment by many of the delegates. A resolution on the death of Governor Johnson of Minnesota, extending sympathy to the family, was carried by a slim vote.

Aside from the mayoralty canvass, chief interest in the fall campaign will center in the contest for district attorney. This office, however, is a county office, and the democratic candidate will be nominated at a separate convention later. District Attorney Jerome's attack received scornful, out brief mention from several of the speakers tonight.

Justice Gaynor, the majority candidate, is a native of Oneida county, New York, and is 58 years old. He became nationally known nearly twenty years ago for his work in breaking up rings within the democratic party, and for his action in securing the conviction of John Y. McKane, a Brooklyn boss, for election frauds. He was prominently mentioned for the second place on the national democratic ticket at Denver last year.

The ticket named is:

For mayor—Justice William J. Gaynor; Brooklyn.

For comptroller—Robert H. Moore, Manhattan.

For president of the board of aldermen—John Galvin, Manhattan.

Money deposited in the Lowell First Cent Savings bank on or before Saturday, October 2, 1909, begins to draw interest from that date.

ARE YOU, GOOD WOMAN, AT YOUR BEST?

Many beautiful women find themselves losing good looks and health—slowly fading from a cause unknown to them. She has no appetite, and the food she does eat seems to do her no good. Why? If you should ask her what the trouble is, she would say, "I am just tired out." But the real cause is constipation and its resulting condition—bad blood. Just think what habitual neglect of the bowels meant—sickness instead of good health; nervousness instead of vigor; cheerfulness replaced by depression, happiness by misery.

A week's use of Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills will work wonders. They will regulate the functions of the liver and the bowels, immediately unload the congestion, cure the constipation and cleanse the blood of impurities. These little pills will soon make you feel and look at your best. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep them on hand. # VAHEY AND FOSS

SPANISH FORCE

Met With Serious Reverse Near Melilla

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—James H. Vahey was renominated for governor yesterday at the democratic convention in Faneuil hall after his opponent, Mayor John T. Coughlin, had put up a light and polled a vote that surprised every delegate in the convention.

Eugene N. Foss, the republican insurgent, was nominated for lieutenant-governor, but not until some strenuous work was put in to make his nomination unanimous.

The ticket named is as follows:

For governor—James H. Vahey, Watertown.

For lieutenant-governor—Eugene N. Foss, Boston.

For secretary of state—David T. Clark, Wrentham.

For treasurer—James H. Bryan, Westfield.

For attorney-general—Harvey N. Shepard, Boston.

For auditor—Alexis Boyer, Southbridge.

The state committee met at large, by districts, and:

- 1—David P. Doherty, Westfield.
- 2—Jas. W. O'Brien, Northampton.
- 3—David P. O'Connell, Worcester.
- 4—Roger Sherman Hoar, Concord.
- 5—Edward Gallagher, Lowell.

CREW'S CHARGES

Men Say That They Were Underfed

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Discussion has raged between Captain S. H. Henshaw of the British ship Baywatch while that vessel has been tied up at her wharf here since she arrived from Buenos Ayres a week ago. Today the trouble reached a crisis when the crew applied to the British consul to be released from further service on the ship. Finally they charged that the articles under which they shipped have been violated. In support of this claim they tell a story of continued abuse and assert that they were underfed.

William Daniels of Australia is the spokesman for the crew. He says that the crew which he and six messmates survived had deserted at Buenos Ayres for the same reasons which the present crew gives. The ship, he claims, was over-run with vermin and rats. Other charges brought by Daniels are:

The rats had chewed part of the rats of the second mate before the ship left Buenos Ayres.

The men, underfed, were obliged to work 16 of the 24 hours each day.

A man named Eberlein fell unconscious at the wheel and stated that he was exhausted from hunger.

STAKED HIS LIFE

On the Toss of a Coin

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 1.—David Eldridge, the mine owner who disappeared in the desert several days ago staked his life on the toss of a coin and lost, according to Alkali Mike, a prospector, who says he was the last to see the missing man. Parties have searched the desert in vain for Eldridge and have given him up for dead. Mike came here from Greenwater last night. He says he and Eldridge, who was the son of Benjamin Eldridge, a wealthy Illinois mining machine manufacturer, started for Telescopo peak to inspect a power site, on the way they lost most of their provisions and one of their burros. When their water supply was reduced to five gallons Mike says Eldridge suggested the tossing of a coin to see who would take the turn and make a dash for water. Eldridge lost and taking on of water. But his companion, on arriving at Greenwater he sent a party in search of the missing man, but no trace of him was found.

DEPOSED SHAH

ON HIS WAY TO EXILE IN RUSSIA

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—Mohammed Ali Mirza, the deposed shah of Persia, sailed from Anzali on the Russian sea steamer Gen. Skobeleff on his way to exile in Russia. He is expected to land at Petrovsk tomorrow. He will be taken direct to Odessa on a special train. His movements are being kept as secret as possible as the Cossacks are sworn with Persian revolutionists and attempts at assassination are feared.

ACCIDENT TO STEAMER

HAYRI, Oct. 1.—A wireless dispatch received here says that the steamer Hayri of the Turkish navy, which was on a voyage to the Aegean, was wrecked on the coast of Greece. The ship was carrying a large number of passengers and crew. The cause of the accident is not yet known. The ship is reported to be in a bad state of repair.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that fall trade is opening up well in most sections and numerous orders are being placed for staple goods. Many manufacturing plants increased their output although demand for pig iron has fallen off in some districts because of the rapid advance in prices. Colder weather is needed at Boston for a full distribution of seasonable clothing, but a good volume of trade is noted in all dry goods departments. The raw material situation has unsettled the market for cotton goods, demands from the mills having practically ceased, but manufacturers of woolen goods are busy on men's and women's fabrics.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are: $2,748,469,892, a gain of 218 per cent over last year.

BIG NAVAL PARADE

Feature of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—History in the making threatened to eclipse the history of the printed page today as the principal attraction of the Hudson-Fulton celebration. With Commander Peary aboard and every other member of the crew that accompanied him on his quest of the North pole the steamship Roosevelt joined the naval parade up the lower Hudson to meet the Half Moon and Clermont at Newburg and if Henry Hudson and Robert Fulton had commanded these reproductions of their famous craft they would have had cause for jealousy.

This naval parade was the feature of the celebration today as far as Manhattan was concerned. In Brooklyn the historical pageant of last Tuesday was repeated and there was everywhere the usual expectation of aeroplane flights but the great majority of sightseers flocked to the banks of the Hudson. There they saw in addition to Peary's vessel a great fleet of excursion steamers and other craft which rendezvoused between Port Lee and Spuyten Duyvel about ten o'clock fell into line for the fifty mile journey to Newburg. With the historic Half Moon and Clermont already up the river the chief figure in the gathering of craft in the lower river was the Roosevelt. Her progress from quarantine early in the day to her dock at the foot of West 42d street was marked by a continuous blast of whistles and when she came off Riverside drive where the crowd was gathered and started on her way up the river the salute was taken up by thousands of cheering voices.

The nucleus of the lower Hudson fleet that started this morning was a squadron of one small United States cruiser, twelve torpedo boats and four submarines. These with the Castine, the parent boat of the submarine squadron, and four other submarines which are acting as escort to the Half Moon and the Clermont, make 22 warships representing Uncle Sam in today's demonstration. The other members of the American war fleet and the visiting foreign men-of-war remained at their anchorages in the Hudson, where they have rested since they assembled last Saturday.

The Half Moon and the Clermont spent the night at Ossining and had a short time this morning to reach Newburg. Their first stop was at Peekskill, where they were the central figures in a local celebration.

After the arrival of the fleet at Newburg there was a street parade of 5000 men in which the sailors and marines from the warships joined. The parade will afterward be guests at a big "shore dinner". The New York division of the river parade will return tonight, while the up-river squadrons will escort the Half Moon and the Clermont as far north as Troy, stopping to lend them to several local celebrations on the way up.

At Ossining, just below Newburg, on the west side of the river, the Half Moon and the Clermont were received by "Indians," who put out in canoes to meet them as the tribesmen they represented did when Hudson's craft first appeared there 300 years ago.

Tonight the sailors and marines of all the warships in the harbor will attend a reception at a Harlem open-air park given by the Sramen Gunners' league of the United States. The crowds of visitors which reached their maximum here yesterday began to diminish today. A majority of the celebration guests, however, came to see the week through and thousands are kept here by the hope of seeing an aeroplane flight up the North river. Their arrangement with the celebration committee gives Wright and Curtiss until Oct. 4 to make a successful flight. Because Curtiss is expected to leave on Saturday night to keep an engagement at St. Louis it is believed that he will make another flight as soon as the weather allows.

Both aviators said this morning that the prospects of an exhibition today were far from promising.

Newburg, which in revolutionary days was the headquarters of Gen. Washington, today welcomed the Half Moon and the Clermont and witnessed their formal transfer from the lower Hudson commission to the upper Hudson commission, which will pilot them through another week of the Hudson-Fulton celebration in the cities lying to the north. Accompanied by an imposing array of naval and river craft the little vessels which began the day's festivities at Peekskill ploughed their way through the quiet waters of the Hudson and anchored in the bay, while Gov. Hughes, the members of the Hudson-Fulton commission from up and down the river, members of the legislature, the foreign and other guests, were welcomed by Mayor Benjamin McCullough as they came ashore. Down at Cornwall, four miles below Newburg, the Half Moon and the Clermont had anchored to await the coming of the naval parade from New York earlier in the day. Members of the Waerneck tribe of Red Men, gay with paint and feathers, arrived on the shore, sent out a welcoming detachment in canoes to greet the Half Moon, while guns boomed out a welcome from Palmer's park.

In Newburg the fleet was received with a military salute, fired from Washington's headquarters overlooking the river. While the brief formal ceremonies attending the transfer of the Half Moon and the Clermont to the upper Hudson commission were taking place the sailors and marines from the American and foreign fleets were landing further down the river, preparatory to taking part in the military parade which was one of the chief features of the day ashore.

Gov. Hughes was the guest of former

Gov. Benjamin Odell during his stay in the city. Newburg has been celebrating Old Home Week since Saturday, and the city is ablaze of color. The military parade which Gov. Hughes reviewed from a grandstand at the court house was made up of two divisions, naval and military. Detachments of sailors and marines from the warships and revenue cutters, including those from foreign shores, and naval cadets composed the first division, while the second was made up largely of state organizations. The commission's plans originally provided for a river parade from Albany today to meet the fleet from New York, but that portion of the program was abandoned.

The vessels in the river parade left New York at various times, depending upon their speed. The Castine in charge of Commander Kline and the submarines Oscars, Tarantula, Cuttlefish, Viper and Plunger passed up the river last night and met the Half Moon and the Clermont this morning. Torpedo boats that added the pieces to today's parade were the Warden, Blackly, Shattuck, Strimling, Porter, Dupont and Hilde. The scout cruisers Birmingham and Salem, the greyhounds of the navy, joined the escort of the Half Moon and the Clermont on the way to Newburg this morning. The gunboats Albatross and Wasp which were detailed to the New York naval militia went up stream last night. The revenue cutters in the parade were the Audubon, Gresham, Mohawk, Seneca and Hudson.

JOY RIDERS

CAME TO GRIEF AS USUAL—LOCKED UP—CAR BURNED

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—A joy ride and the careless use of a lighted match resulted last night in a gasoline explosion which partially destroyed the big touring car of Neil McNeal, a well known Dorchester contractor and also brought out the Jamaica Plain fire apparatus to extinguish a fire in the vesting booth at the junction of Lanark and Boylston streets, caused by the burning oil. Henry Bacon, the chauffeur of the car, and two of his friends, Walter Cahill and Joseph Conboy, both of Jamaica Plain, who were with him at the time, were locked up at station 13 charged with drunkenness. A fourth man escaped and is sought by the police. They ran against a polling booth and

DANDRUFF

Falling Hair and Itching Scalp are Caused by Microbes

There is no doubt about it. Doctor Sabouraud proved it when he injected a guinea pig with dandruff germs and all its hair disappeared in a short time. The entire medical world has accepted

Dr. Sabouraud's discovery as final. Ask any worthy physician. Paris leads the world in knowledge of diseases of the hair and remedies for the same.

And Parisian Sage which can now be obtained at leading druggists all over America is the one great remedy that kills the dandruff germs.

And that is why Carter & Sherburne say to every reader of The Sun if Parisian Sage does not banish dandruff, stop falling hair or itching scalp in two weeks, they will refund the purchase price.

Dandruff is the forerunner of baldness. Take care of your hair while you have hair to take care of. Kill the dandruff germs now before the dandruff germs kill your hair.

Use Parisian Sage, the guaranteed Dandruff Cure and delightful hair dressing.

It is used extensively by ladies of refinement because it keeps the scalp absolutely clean and gives a bewitching lustre to the hair. Price 50 cents at Carter & Sherburne's and leading druggists everywhere. Girl with Auburn hair on every package. Made in America by Groom Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. ### SEN. CONVENTION

At Republican Headquarters Tomorrow

The republican state convention will be held tomorrow at Boston, and Lowell, as usual, will be well represented, though quite a few well known republicans will remain at home to attend the seventh senatorial convention, which will be held at republican headquarters at 2 o'clock when A. G. Walsh, of this city, ex-Rep. Bennett of Salem, Rep. Pattison was opposed by John F. White of Tisbury, whom he defeated by only one vote. The pole of the delegates was: Pattison 29, White 12.

The date for the 14th district convention has not yet been set. The eighth district democratic senatorial convention will be held in democratic headquarters, Central street, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, but the other dates have not yet been set by the democrats.

PATTISON NOMINATED

BUZZARDS BAY, Oct. 1.—Representative Thomas Pattison of Oyster Bay won the senatorial nomination at the so-called "cape district" convention of this city, ex-Rep. Bennett of Salem, Rep. Pattison was opposed

Three Crack-a-jack Values

It stands to reason that the man who manufactures an article can sell it directly to the consumer for less money than the dealer who has to buy from the maker, pay him a profit and then add a profit for himself.

King manufactures every garment they offer and sells directly to you, which saves you the middleman's profit. All other stores are dealers who buy their clothing from manufacturers, paying them enormous prices for their goods, because the magazine and other advertising they do must be settled for, all of which in the end you pay for.

REMEMBER, Mr. Man, you pay for all this expensive advertising, for it is added to the dealer's cost; then the dealer adds his profit.

HERE ARE FACTS THAT ADMIT OF NO DISPUTE:

Our Suits of All Worsteds at.....	$9.95
Will cost you elsewhere $13.00.
Our Suits of All Worsteds at.....	$11.95
Will cost you elsewhere $18.00.
Our Suits of All Worsteds at.....	$14.95
Will cost you elsewhere $22.50.

These are the three crack-a-jack values we call your attention to. The difference is the saving to you of what the dealer has to add for his profit and the extra cost to him from the manufacturer who makes every dollar pay for the advertising he does for them.

If there is any doubt in your mind where you can get the most value in clothing for your money, come to this store and let's show you the new Fall styles.

HE DRANK ACID DIRIGIBLE BALLOONS IN $10,000 RACE FROM N. Y. TO ALBANY

Man Found Dead by His Wife

BURLINGTON, Vt., Oct. 1.—Francis J. Rice, aged 19, of Elmwood avenue, was found dead in his room by his wife yesterday afternoon, he having committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. A partially filled vial of the poison was found beside his body. He lay partially undressed across the bed with no signs of life. He has been despondent of late. Three months ago he tried to take poison in a poolroom, but the bottle was knocked from his hand.

Next week is "quarter week" at the Lowell Five Cent Savings bank.

BABY'S ITCHING WAS INTOLERABLE

Girl of Six Months had Fearful
Attack of Eczema—Spread All Over Her Face and Eyes Began to Swell—Scratched Till Blood Came—Relieved in a Night and

CURED BY CUTICURA
AFTER LONG SUFFERING

"When my little girl was six months old I noticed small red spots on her right cheek. I did not pay any attention to them but finally the spots grew so large that I sent for the doctor who said it was ringworm. He prescribed an ointment which I used for two weeks, but instead of helping the eruption, the ointment seemed to make it worse. Then I went to a second doctor who after examining the baby said it was eczema. He also gave me an ointment which did not help either. The disease in the meantime spread all over the face and the eyes began to swell. I became very anxious. The itching grew intolerable. I had to tie the baby's hands to the cradle to prevent her scratching. The cheeks were covered with blood and it was a terrible sight to see. I consulted doctors from September to December, but they were unable to cure the baby. I paid out from twenty to thirty dollars without relief.

"One of my friends told me of the Cuticura Remedies and I sent at once for a set which I began to use that evening. The next morning the baby's face was all white instead of red and you can imagine how surprised I was. I cannot find words enough to praise Cuticura and I do not know what would have become of my baby only for it. I used the Cuticura Remedies until the eczema entirely disappeared. The child is now three years old and quite well. I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap, two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and I never used any other soap. I always recommend them whenever there is a chance for doing so. I will send you one of her pictures which she had taken just after she was healed. Mrs. P. E. Gumbin, Shelton, Ia., July 13, 1908."

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Captain Thomas S. Baldwin and George L. Tomlinson both failed in their first attempt to fly from New York to Albany for the New York World's $10,000 prize. Both the giant dirigible balloons made beautiful starts from Riverside drive near Grant's tomb. Baldwin shipping his course out over the Hudson river, where the mighty fleet of battleships lay, while Tomlinson took the shorter route over Harlem and the Bronx. These photographs were taken when Tomlinson's ship was over St. John's cathedral and Baldwin was near Grant's tomb. After ten minutes sail Baldwin's machinery got out of gear, and he alighted on the surface of the river. The ship was slightly damaged. Tomlinson sailed to White Plains, where he was forced to land because of a leak in his oil tank. Both at once prepared for a second trial.

DIED SUDDENLY

Agent Ingram of Washington Mills

LAWRENCE, Oct. 1.—James Ingram, one of the best-known men in this city, died suddenly yesterday, following an operation. He had been agent of the Washington Mills plant of the American Woolen company in this city since 1893.

He was born in Wiltshire, Eng., in 1852 and got little schooling there, beside working in the mills. In 1874 he came to New York and secured employment as a weaver, later as a loom-fixer in Providence, remaining 10 or 12 years. He came to the New Washington Mills in 1890 as an overseer of weaving, seeing it grow from 50 looms to 1500 or 1600.

In 1891 he was made superintendent of the cloth manufacturing department, and in 1899 he succeeded E. P. Chapin as agent. He was also, in 1905, made agent of the Riverside mill of Providence. He was a 32d degree Mason. He was married and had three adult sons.

NEW SHOE SHOP

To Locate in Ayer City Plant

Through the efforts of the board of trade and the Lowell Electric Light company, the Andrews and Westcott company, shoe manufacturers of Everett, are to establish a branch factory in this city and will locate in the Walter Watson factory, 185 Tanner street, the lease having been signed late yesterday afternoon.

The company will employ about 100 hands in its Lowell factory and expects to start up within a month. Negotiations with the company have been under way for some time, through Secretary McKenna and representatives of the Lowell Electric Light company. The concern employs about 1000 hands in its Everett factory and is a well established and highly rated firm. The making and finishing will be done at the Lowell factory.

CLIFTON CLUB

MEMBERS WERE GUESTS OF MISS DONOGHUE

The members of the Clifton club met last night at the home of Miss Elizabeth M. Donoghue, 4 Hazlett street, and had a most enjoyable time. What was enjoyed and an excellent musical program was carried out. Among those who contributed to the success of the musical program were Miss Agnes Phelps and Miss Margaret Kiernan, who sang several solos. Miss Laura Gervais, who gave some delightful readings, Miss Catherine Roddy sang, and Miss Madeline Marley and Miss Donoghue, the hostess, gave several piano selections. Both solos and duets. The next meeting of the club will be at the residence of Miss Madeline Marley of Third avenue.

LESLIE'S WEEKLY

Says in the January 21st issue:

"There was a time, not long ago, when shares in the Mergenthaler Linotype Company could be bought for ten dollars each. That was when the company was getting started. The beginning was small, but there was an unlimited opportunity. Now the click of the linotype is heard in every printing establishment of any consequence in the country, and the stock is worth $195 a share. Early investors, who were intelligent and foresaw, have made a profit of 2000 per cent."

"I could give you many other instances like these which show how those who had the opportunity, and who had the wisdom to accept it when it came to them, have made splendid profits on small sums invested.

"There is only one way to make extraordinary profits on a small investment—to make a fortune by a single financial stroke—and that is to obtain an interest in a company which has a solid foundation and the opportunity of expanding its business to immense proportions. But you must secure your interest at the very start. If you wait until the company is paying enormous earnings, you will find the stock out of your reach.

"Such chances for fortune making are never open long. They are quickly taken up by those who are keen enough to appreciate them.

NIGHT EDITION

COMMANDER PEARY

Arrived in New York City This Morning

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The whistles of a hundred harbor craft were booming a continuous salute to the steamer Roosevelt as she ploughed up the harbor today at the moment when Commander Robert E. Peary stepped from a train in the Grand Central station, returning to New York from his trip to the North pole to participate in the Hudson-Fulton nautical parade in the Hudson river. Had it not been for the rush of traffic about the big station the commander could have heard the roar of welcoming whistles which echoed shrilly around the water's front and reached the city's streets in a steady drone like the hum of some great machine.

The Roosevelt was well on her way from the quarantine station on Staten Island to a pier at the foot of 12d St. where the explorer was to board her when Commander Peary, arrived at 7.15 a. m. He was accompanied by Mrs. Peary and they had left Portland, Me. last evening, to participate in today's nautical demonstration. The hour of their arrival was so early that few persons were at the station to greet them. They were warmly greeted, however, by Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club and a staunch supporter and friend of the commander. A group of newspapermen was also gathered. The hour of their arrival was so early that few persons were at the station to greet them. They were warmly greeted, however, by Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club and a staunch supporter and friend of the commander. A group of newspapermen was also gathered.

Mr. Peary said that he did not know then what the plans for his first day in the vicinity of New York were, but that he expected to take his place on the bridge of the Roosevelt during the parade and that Mrs. Peary would share that position with him. Mr. Peary said he should obtain further details from Mr. Bridgman. After a hurried breakfast the commander and Mrs. Peary left the hotel in a taxicab for the pier at the foot of West 12d street where they were to board the Roosevelt.

The night ride from Portland to New York was without incident. The hour of Commander Peary's departure had been withheld and there were no gatherings as his train stopped at stations on the way.

Members of the Peary Arctic club and close friends of the explorer will discuss with him during his stay in the city the various phases of the North pole controversy, but Commander Peary said he would not talk about the subject for publication until his formal statement is prepared.

It is appreciated the honor of being in today's nautical parade, said the commander just before alighting from the train, "and it is an especial pleasure to be with my crew on board the Roosevelt on such an occasion."

"The trip up the Hudson today will be a much different event for them than the trip of the Roosevelt up Smith sound in the ice to the winter quarters at Cape Sheridan."

"No, there is nothing to be said now about the Cook controversy. I do not want to talk about it now."

Commander Peary did not know how long he would remain in New York before returning to his home at Eagle Island.

Commander and Mrs. Peary with Herbert Bridgman boarded the Roosevelt at 8.45 for the trip up the Hudson. The commander had not decided how far up the Hudson he would go but said that this matter would be discussed during the voyage up the river.

The Roosevelt was anchored out in the stream with the North pole flag at her mizen mast and the flags which in the international code signal read: "Thank you" flying beneath it. Every steam whistle in sight of land and water was shrieking its salutes and at brief intervals the little Arctic ship would reply. Peary listened a few minutes, then remarked to those with him: "The won't have any steam left for the trip up the river if she keeps that up much longer."

The commander stepped to the edge of the pier and waved a white handkerchief. The signal was immediately answered in the same manner by Capt. Bartlett on the Roosevelt. The tug Ogan came puffing up to the pier to take Peary aboard his steamer.

"How does it feel to be back," asked some one. "It doesn't feel so worse—in the words of Chimble Fadden," replied Peary. Then his eyes turned back fondly to the Roosevelt. "She doesn't look like a very imposing ship, does she?" he said. "But up in the ice she looks like something, and there were times when she looked mighty good to me. You notice the way she built? The round of her bow prevents the ice from keeping hold of her when she is squeezed and she bobs up when the ice comes together."

The explorer's eyes flashed as he noticed the flags at the masthead. "You see those signals," he remarked; "you can read them two ways—either 'North pole, thank you,' or 'Much obliged for these salutes.'"

The North pole flag is the usual ensign with a strip of white bearing the words "North Pole" in black letters running diagonally from the upper corner of the horizontal red and white stripes to the corner under the stars. Commander Peary explained its origin as follows: "I wanted a piece of the silk flag I flew at the pole to bury at that point with my records, so I cut a diagonal strip out of it. Then to preserve the flag I sewed a strip of white silk into the cut when I returned to the Roosevelt. The design seemed so appropriate that we lettered this strip and adopted it as the North pole ensign."

Mr. and Mrs. Peary had stepped on board the tug and were on their way to the Roosevelt before the crowd at the dock realized who they were. Then there was a burst of cheering. Handkerchiefs were waved, hats leaped into the air, and the whistles took up their work with redoubled din. At the pier the commander was again asked as to the "Cook" controversy. His answer was, "Not a word." Commander Peary and his wife and Mr. Bridgman were the only persons aboard the Roosevelt in conventional shore dress. The explorer wore a blue sack suit and a gray felt hat. Captain Bartlett and the crew of 13 men still wore the garments they had chosen for their rough trip to the Arctic. Flannel shirts, fur boots and picturesque sea gear.

The Roosevelt loved to, answering salutes of the passing vessels, while most of the ships intending to take part in the parade had passed. The Roosevelt then dropped into line and brought up the rear of the procession.

Commander Peary's reception in New York was comparatively a quiet one because he slipped into the city so early that few knew the hour of his arrival except Mr. Bridgman and reporters.

It was very plain that Peary wanted to avoid a demonstration and one man close to him said that his principal object in going direct aboard the Roosevelt was to avoid one.

CAPT. WORTHEN

ATTENDED REUNION OF SURVIVORS OF "GALLANT TWELFTH"

Capt. George E. Worthen, superintendent of state aid, attended the reunion of the survivors of the "Gallant Twelfth" at Concord, N. H., a few days ago. It was the first time since the famous fighting regiment was mustered out on the old camp ground at the close of the Civil war that the surviving members of the "Fighting Twelfth" New Hampshire, gathered at the capital of the state for their annual reunion, and Mr. Worthen says the meeting was one of the most interesting that he ever attended.

It was a day of pleasant happenings for him, and while a great many deplored the fact that the weather clerk says fit to send rain, the most pleasant incident of the day for Mr. Worthen was due to the rain.

He did not go prepared for it and as he came out from the hall he stood rather undecided as to what he would do. He was turning the question over in his mind when a hand touched his shoulder and a voice said: "Comrade, come under my tent." It was the voice of Gov. Kimball of New Hampshire.

"Your Excellency," said Mr. Worthen, "I would like to share your tent, but my wife is with me." "Bring your wife along," said the governor. "The tent is large enough for three," and the chief magistrate of the state across the line escorted Mr. and Mrs. Worthen to their hotel.

28 BALLOONS

ZURICH, Oct. 1.—Twenty-eight balloons started from Zurich today in the international balloon race, a competition for balloons of all dimensions, the first prize of $500 to go to the pilot landing nearest to a point previously selected by him. The entries comprise eighteen German, seven Swiss, one French, one Spanish and one Italian airship. The pilots were given a selection of fifteen points at which they could propose to land.

Prince Roland Bonaparte was today re-elected president of the Aeronautic Federation. The 10th meeting of the association will take place at Bordeaux.

Street Department to Beat Out

Jack Frost

Asked if he felt confident that the paving of Merrimack street and Merrimack square would be gone through with before the arrival of Jack Frost, Newell E. Putnam, superintendent of streets, said: "Barring an unusual amount of wet weather, we will finish with the paving of Merrimack street and Merrimack square before the frost sets in. Of course if the railroad company should cause us any delay in the square it would change the complexion of things, but I do not expect any delay from that quarter. I think that the railroad company will have everything ready when we get there. It is possible that the frost may catch us in the street, but I doubt it."

The work of paving Merrimack street has gone along more than a fair rate of speed. One side of the street from Dutton to Central street is finished and the street department has started on the other side. Mr. Putnam said today that he had foreman on the job who were hustling and he allowed they were pushing the job for all it was worth.

To close up for the fall the street department, which includes the sewer department, will have several odd jobs to do, including the putting in of a sewer in Lawrence street, which will be begun at once. There is another small job in the Oakland that has to do with a brook. The brook has been cut up and twisted all out of shape by the laying of the Oakland sewer, and what is left of its diverted course has caused more or less trouble, but the break is doomed and is about to lose its identity. The superintendent of streets has made up his mind that the only way to cure the ill is to take possession of the brook and the poor little thing is to be turned into the sewer.

Rather Costly Ordinance
There has been introduced into the city council, by Councilman Genest, an ordinance to have the assessors, after the current year, issue a special bill for each individual parcel of real estate instead of lumping it as at the present time. This ordinance has gone through the common council, and will be up to the aldermen at their next meeting. The old heads look upon the ordinance as a very expensive one, and here's how they figure it. They claim that the getting out of separate bills would so increase the work in the assessor's department as to require more clerical assistance; it would cost more to write the bills and would delay payments in the treasurer's office.

They cite, as an instance, the property of A. C. Wheelock. Mr. Wheelock has probably 800 pieces of property and if Mr. Genest's ordinance went into effect it would mean that a separate bill would have to be made out for every one of the 800 pieces. They argue that the passing of the ordinance would be a big mistake.

Molly Varnum Chapter
The Molly Varnum Chapter, D. A. R., is occupying the city solicitor's attention at the present time. It will be remembered that the chapter sought to recover through the courts on back taxes paid on the Spalding house. The case went to the superior court and Judge Hall found in favor of the chapter. He found that they represented either a literary, benevolent, charitable or scientific organization. Judge Hall didn't specify but any of under the laws of Massachusetts, City Solicitor Duncan, however, does not think that the chapter comes under the exemption law and the matter will go to the supreme court. Mr. Duncan is preparing his brief.

The matter of itself does not amount to much so far as actual money is concerned as it is but $50, but there is always the danger of "others to come" and the city's doctor is anxious to have the supreme court pass upon it.

Natives Are Slow
Of the five couples who have registered their matrimonial intentions at the city clerk's office within the last 48 hours, two are from Greece, one from Turkey and one from Austria. The names of foreigners on the books of sorrow and joy are more plentiful than are the names of natives. Tell it to Teddy.

Not "Bilky" But "Dead"
When City Solicitor Duncan was asked today if his office had absorbed the office of the city clerk, the solicitor said he didn't hear of any such merger. It seems it was inadvertently stated yesterday that the city solicitor had gone to Boston to attend the semi-annual convention of the City and Town Clerks' association. It was City Clerk Dudman who went and he took the mayor along for protection or said he didn't hear of any such merger. The most thing the city solicitor did yesterday was to call the republican convention together and while that is had enough the good Lord in His mercy may give him time to report.

Bids Called For
If you have bulbs for sale, go and see the purchasing agent or the park department. The park department wants the bulbs and it's up to the purchasing agent to buy them. The purchasing agent has also called for bids for a car of oats and a number of shovels for the street department.
